The True Policy.

In everything we purchase, it is the true policy to obtain the best. With regard to photography, the fact must be acknowledged that it has been brought to a high state of perfection in Pittsburgh, and no artist either here or in any other city in the United States, can justly claim to rank ahead of our well-known Pittsburgh leader in Photography, Mr. B. L. H. Dabbs, of St. Clair street. An examination of his specimens, on exhibition at his superb establishment, cannot but satisfy the most fastidious of the superior skill and thorough knowledge of the photographic art, and in this is to be found the secret of the liberal patronage which he enjoys. Mr. Dabbs, always on the lookout for something new and fresh, has just returned from New York with an excellent stock of elegant frames and other goods in his line, as well as a full and new supply of the best material of all kinds necessary for the production of first class pictures. A new style of picture has appeared in New York, and Mr. D is making preparations to produce the same in this city in a first class manner, equal to the best specimens produced there. The new style is all the rage in the Eastern cities, and will no doubt take as well in Pittsburgh. Mr. Dabbs will be found always at his place of business on St. Clair street, between Penn and Liberty streets, and will be pleased to show his stock and specimens of pictures. Having the finest rooms in the city, and the largest selection of pictures in all varieties of styles, it is at once a pleasure and profit to visit his rooms and look over them.

Go to Fleming's Drug Store,

No. 84 Market street, for the best Medicinal Liquors of all kinds.

"Hobson's Choice."

"A man nam'd Hobson, at one time
Kept a large stable, neat and prime,
Where horses in condition stood,
Waiting for those to hire who could;
And Hobson numbered every stall,
So that each patron who might call
Must take the beast, or go without,
In number next to that last out:
Which led sometimes to short dispute,
Because the next horse wouldn't suit,
And there's the point whereon's the fun:
The law was—Hobson's choice, or none."

So wrote Dr. Walcott—("Peter Pindar"). But Drs. Sill and Gillespie, Practical Dentists, No. 246 Penn street, (directly opposite Christ's M. E. Church,) always aid their patrons with their experience, judgment and skill. Nitrous Oxide, or "Laughing Gas," used in extracting teeth. A sure and safe anæsthetic, as administered by them, and manufactured fresh every day. The most natural and durable, most beautiful and cheapest sets of false teeth ever seen. Every operation in dentistry performed with success.

The Best Paper Sacks in the United States.

Messrs. Godfrey & Clark, No. 357 Liberty street are now filling heavy orders from many of the most extensive flour mills in the United States, in which their paper sacks for putting up wheat and buckwheat flour in small bulk from one to fifty pounds, are almost exclusively used. These sacks require no puffing to recommend to the millers and flour dealers of the country. They are so far ahead of anything of the kind ever before offered to the public, that purchasers invariably send in their orders after a single examination of the sacks. Messrs. Godfrey & Clark have reached the acme of perfection in the construction of this article, and now offer paper sacks which no other manufactory in the Union can equal for material, strength, durability, perfect finish and low cost. They are stronger than any other in the market, and have been submitted to severe tests, which they stood to entire satisfaction of all present. The bottoms are stronger, and the entire sack will stand a greater amount of handling. They are impervious to water, and the accumulation of dust does not soil them, as it can be entirely blown off with a single breath owing to the beautiful smooth surface of the paper. In the matter of cost they are more desirable than any other sack, because they are not only far more serviceable and perfect in every feature, but they are furnished at the same price as those manufactured in the East, less the heavy cost and long delays of freight. The millers of Western Pennsylvania, Eastern Ohio and West Virginia, are invited to send for samples of these sacks, and judge for themselves of their superior merits. Messrs. Godfrey & Clark are able to supply their customers from ten days to two weeks earlier than any other paper sack manufactory in the United States. Every size of cotton sack constantly on hand.

OUR MOTTO.

We use such Balms as have no strife,
With Nature or the Laws of Life;
With blood our hands we never stain,
Nor poison men to ease their pain.

Our Father—whom all goodness fills,
Provides the means to cure all ills;
The simple herb beneath our feet,
Well used, relieves our pains complete.

A simple Herb, a simple Flower,
Culled from the dewey Lee—
These, these shall speak with touching power,
Of change and health to thee.

The Delight of the Home Circle.

Nothing contributes so much to the pleasures and comforts of the domestic circle as a cheerful, glowing fireside, and nothing in the market so thoroughly meets this want as Bissell & Co.'s new patent double oven range, made expressly for burning bituminous coal. Of the numerous ranges which have been introduced from time to time, none have ever before met with so many flattering testimonials from the oldest and most respectable families in Western Pennsylvania, Eastern Ohio and West Virginia. Hundreds of families in Pittsburgh and Allegheny city have been supplied with this range, and not one of them would now consent to be without it under any consideration. They are still in constant demand. Call and examine Bissell & Co.'s celebrated coal burning Cooking Stove, the "Triumph," and their renowned wood burning cooking stove "Black Oak," are equally popular with the range. In every detail these stoves challenge competition, and have never failed to give perfect satisfaction in any instance. Messrs. Bissell & Co. have a fresh stock now on hand, two sizes, with and without tin kitchen, &c. Everything in the stove line. Bissell & Co., No. 235 Liberty street, near Irwin alley.

Paulson's Fur Emporium.

Charles H. Paulson, No. 73 Wood street, has just opened his new and elegant stock of Ladies' and Misses' Furs, for Fall and Winter wear. The largest and most complete assortment in this city.

Gentlemen's Furnishing Goods.

Astonishing as their prices may seem, compared with those to which the public have been accustomed for several years, it is nevertheless true that Murdock & Putnam, No. 72 Fifth street, (also, under the Monongahela House,) have every description of gentlemen's furnishing goods constantly on hand, of the latest and most fashionable styles and patterns, at prices lower than any other house in the city. Every article they sell is serviceable, and every customer never fails to call again. In style, make, fit, material and price they take the lead. Their present fall and winter stock is the largest and best assortment of men and youth's furnishing goods to be found in the city.

If I Had a Legacy.

If some uncle I never saw,
(Like those we often read of)
Would leave me, as his heir at law,
More cash than I had need of,
I'd drive a turn-out of such style
As Fifth street rarely sees;
I'd give Miss Jones, to win her smile,
Diamonds as big as peas;
And each day would behold me drest
In a grand suit of Grossmayer's best!

Election Banquet at Harrisburg.

Our friends in Harrisburg on Wednesday evening celebrated the late Union Republican victory in this State, by a grand banquet at the Jones House, at which Major Hart presided. After the viands had been discussed, the cloth was removed, and sentiments and speeches were the order of the evening. Among the most notable toasts were the following:

Our next President—The hero of the war against treason—General Ulysses S. Grant.—(Standing, with three cheers.)

Major General John W. Geary, Governor elect of Pennsylvania—the hero of two wars; the champion of freedom; the statesman and orator, whose past glorious record gives high promise of a brilliant future—justly merits the high office to which the people have elected him; his honesty, integrity and firmness our sure guarantee for the success of his administration.

Received with loud applause. (The Governor was unavoidably absent in the West.)

Governor Curtin—His administration of the affairs of the State, both civil and military, so guided by statesmanship and impartial justice to all, and so tempered by mercy as to leave at the close of his eventful terms of office no issue for adjustment by the people, is the cherished legacy of the State, and his name a household word with her people; the first among the sentinels of liberty to give warning to prepare for war; to pledge the faith and support of our good old Commonwealth to the lamented Lincoln; to push forward troops to the scene of the expected struggle; to organize an army in reserve, which after the disaster at Bull Run saved the nation's capital and honor; and to care for and educate the children of our fallen comrades, he is entitled to the thanks and recognition of the citizens, soldiers, and the people he has served so well.

The Governor thanked the audience in his usual style, which was well received.

Gen. Simon Cameron—The Cabinet Minister whose wise discernment fathomed the depths of treason, and whose patriotic intuition prompted the recognition of governmental rights and humanitarian duties.

General Cameron responded in a few remarks.

Thaddeus Stevens—The gallant pioneer of universal liberty, the leader of the loyal hosts, and the noblest Roman of them all.

Mr. Stevens was not present.

THE SORROWS OF SEMMES.—Raphael Semmes, ex-buccaneer, ex-rebel admiral, probate judge, ex curia, and editor, of the reconstructed pattern—waileth bitterly. He started a paper, called the Gazette, in Mobile—after he found he would not be permitted to exercise the functions of the judicial office to which his rebel admirers had elected him—and the delightful sheet, though a bold advocate of Southern rights and an outspoken defender of "my policy," doesn't seem to pay. Raphael is immediately cast down with sorrow and despair. He reproaches the people of the "second city in the South" with their indifference to their own interests, which, as he thinks, are bound up in the prosperity of the cantankerous organ of smouldering treason that he conducts. He wants advertisements, he says—at least an equal share with his contemporaries; and, if they are not sent in to him—tariff one dollar a square and so on in proportion—he will have to suspend. Will he? He ought to have been suspended long ago.

Another Southern Paper for the Amendment.

The Helena (Arkansas) Shield advocates the ratification of the Constitutional Amendment by that State. It says:

"There is but one course for a sensible, reflecting people to pursue. They must take a practical view of the situation. Violent language and futile threatenings are now, at least, out of place, and in bad taste, though too often indulged in by intemperate public journalists, who have already inflicted untold evils upon the Southern people—a people whose honor and interest they became the self-constituted guardians of, and whose ruin they contributed so much to effect. We say that the advice of that class of extremists, who have learned nothing from all the terrible lessons and dreadful scenes they evoked, is not the safest counsel for, as has already been proved, a too confiding people."

Judge Bond Doomed.

The National Intelligencer of Wednesday morning says:

"The result of the Maryland election is a gain of one Conservative member of Congress and one Conservative Senator, in addition to a Conservative Legislature, with a sufficient majority to remove Judge Bond and to sustain Governor Swann in every respect."

LATE NEWS ITEMS.

The Toronto papers say that the death sentence passed upon the Fenian prisoners will be remitted, but that the punishment will be severe.

At the Jerome Park races Thursday, Mr. Edward Schenck sold at auction seventeen blooded horses from the stable of Leonard W. Jerome, comprising some of the best stock in the country. The total receipts of the sale was $33,450.

A very large meeting was held on Thursday evening at Cooper Institute, New York, to aid in the establishment of a National Asylum on the Potomac for disabled soldiers and sailors. Horace Greely presided. Addresses were delivered by Lieut. Governor Woodford, Gen. O. O. Howard, Governor Hamilton, of Texas, and others. A contribution was raised in aid of the object. About $25,000 or $30,000 are needed to establish the Institution.

Lieut. Gen. Sherman and Minister L. D. Campbell are in New York, preparatory to sailing for Vera Cruz.

Joseph R. Smith was some time since ejected from the steamer St. John, or refused passage to Albany. He sued the company for five thousand dollars damages, and a New York jury Thursday, after a charge by the Court sustaining the complaint, rendered a verdict for fourteen hundred dollars.

A Herald Washington dispatch says: A large delegation of prominent men from Ohio arrived to-night to assist in the recommendation of Mr. Spooner as the successor of Mr. Rollins as Commissioner of Internal Revenue. Governor Swann advocates the change.

A Toronto, C. W., dispatch says: The police authorities are instructed to cause the arrest and detention of all the suspicious characters in the city under the habeas corpus suspense act passed last session. The act empowers magistrates to cause the arrest of any person suspected of countenancing or encouraging designs against the Government or people, and commit him to prison, there to remain, without trial or bail, till the 8th of June next. Yesterday arrests began. Four men were committed; James and John Dudley, Charles Cash and Alexander Nicholson. The Dudleys profess to hail from Brooklyn, and are moulders by trade. Cash says he comes from Lancashire, England, Nicholson from Scotland. It is expected to be proved that Dudley is an assumed name, the proper one being Donegan.

The Herald's Havana correspondence says: Monsieur Pessignier, Maximilian's chamberlain, arrived recently in Havana, on the Manhattan, from Mexico. His attention seems to be devoted to an inspection of untenanted houses in that city. Gen. Marseno, the newly appointed Captain General of Cuba, arrived at Havana on last Saturday, to relieve Gen. Lercundi.

OHIO NEWS ITEMS.

Theodore Tilton will lecture in Warren, Ohio, on Friday evening, 30th inst., on "The corner stone of Reconstruction."

The citizens of Wellsville will have a skating park the coming winter. An enterprising citizen, Charles Elliott, is building one in Market street, in that village.

The Salem Oil Company was organized in Salem, on Saturday last, by the election of L. B. Lockard, as president, and E. G. Wright, as secretary. The company have a five barrel well on Island Run.

A reunion of the family of Hon. Peter Williams took place at New Philadelphia, Tuscarawas county, Ohio, on Friday. Rev. H. M. Bichel, of Philadelphia, Pa., one of the sons-in-law, on behalf of the children, presented the veteran with a gold mounted ebony cane, inscribed, "To our Father." Services in silver were presented to Mother Williams from the various branches of the family, preceded by suitable addresses by Rev. E. Greenwald, D. D., of Easton, Pa., one of the sons in law; J. W. Patrick, of New Philadelphia, one of the grand sons-in-law, and Rev. A. J. Conklin, of New York, another of the grand-sons-in-law. The family of Judge Williams consists, by direct issue and marriage, of thirteen children, twenty-nine grand children, and four great grand-children. Six children, seven grand-children, and two great grand children have gone to the home above.

FIRST EDITION.

12 O'CLOCK, M.

THE CAPITAL.

THE MEXICAN MISSION.

General Sherman and Minister Campbell to Sail To-day.

Maximilian's Abdication Pronounced Untrue.

Secretary Stanton Charged with Suppressing an Important Dispatch.

Presidential Dispatch to Governor of Texas.

Contested Congressional Seats from Maryland.

Special Dispatch to the Pittsburgh Commercial.

WASHINGTON, November 9, 1866.

Will Probably Sail To-Day.

The recent dispatches in this correspondence announcing the contemplated departure of General Sherman and Minister Campbell, for Vera Cruz and the city of Mexico, are officially confirmed to-day. They will probably sail to-morrow on the Susquehanna.

Maximilian's Abdication.

This evening's Star states that the Mexican minister's dispatch announcing the abdication of Maximilian, is certainly untrue.

A Charge Against Secretary Stanton.

To-day's Republican charges Secretary Stanton with suppressing from the President's knowledge a dispatch sent by General Baird from New Orleans, dated July 28th, in which he proposes to arrest the members of the Louisiana Convention for attempting an unlawful assemblage, and desiring the President's views on such a step. This was two days before the Convention met. The Republican concludes its double leaded article as follows:

"The public await anxiously an explanation from Secretary Stanton why he neither answered Gen. Baird's dispatch, nor allowed the President an opportunity to do so."

The above inquiry was evidently put forth at Executive request.

Cabinet Day.

There was nothing unusual to notice at the Executive Mansion to-day inseparably from the return of Cabinet day. At the hour fixed for the meeting, all the gentlemen who are legal advisers of the President were in attendance. The meeting was lengthened, and the business given consideration important, having reference more immediately to the near approach of the session of Congress.

Irish Mass Meeting.

The Irish Americans held a mass meeting here to-night. It was largely attended, and resolutions were passed extending sympathy to the condemned Fenians in Canada, and requesting this Government to take prompt action in their behalf.

Will Contest Elections.

Mr. J. J. Stewart, defeated Republican candidate in the Third Congressional District of Maryland, has announced his intention to contest the seat of Col. Phelps in the Fortieth Congress, and it is stated that Geo. W. Russam, Republican, will contest the election of McCullough, Democrat, in the First District of that State.

Public Land Sales.

Returns received at the General Land Office from the local land offices at Marquette, Mich., and Nebraska City, Neb., show that an aggregate of 22,606 acres of the public lands were disposed of at these places during the past month as follows: At the Marquette office, Michigan, 16,957 acres, and at the Nebraska City office, Nebraska, 5,651 acres, the greater part being taken for actual settlement under the homestead law.

The Revenue Commissionership.

Another delegation of Ohio men have arrived here to urge the appointment of Thomas R. Spooner as Commissioner of Internal Revenue.

A Presidential Dispatch.

Under date of November 1st, President Johnson telegraphed Governor Throckmorton, of Texas, that he hoped the Texas Legislature would pass the bill making all persons equal before the law, and declaring that his faith was still in the people, and that the time would come when loyal representatives would be admitted into Congress from every Southern State.

Withdrawn.

General Comminger, of Ohio, has withdrawn as a candidate for Commissioner of Internal Revenue.

Personal.

Fernando Wood is in town.

WASHINGTON, November 9.

THE MIANTONOMAH.

The Navy Department have in consideration the sending of the iron clad Miantonomah, now in European waters, to the Pacific coast. She can sail, or rather steam, from Lisbon to Rio de Janeiro, and thence follow the track of the iron clad Monadnock around Cape Horn to San Francisco.

SERIOUS CHARGE AGAINST SECRETARY STANTON.

The Washington Republican charges that Secretary Stanton withheld from the President an important dispatch from General Baird, sent two days previous to the New Orleans riot and alleges that if the President had received it, the riot would not have occurred.

APPOINTMENTS.

The President to-day made the following appointments: Joseph D. Wells, of District of Columbia, agent for the Flat Head and other confederated tribes of Indians in Montana territory; Joel B. Bassett, of Minnesota, agent for the Chippewas, of the Mississippi, Pillager, and Lake Winnebagoe bands, and the Indians of Red Lake and Pembina.

THE AGRICULTURAL BUREAU.

Major Bolton Newton has been appointed Chief Clerk of the Department of Agriculture, and is now Acting Commissioner in the absence of Hon. Isaac Newton, who has been ill for the last six weeks.

FREEDMEN'S AFFAIRS.

The tenor of the reports received by the Freedmen's Bureau from the Assistant Commissioners of the several districts has been, within the past six months, of a nature which which inspires the hope that the animosities and prejudices resulting from the war are rapidly fading out, especially in the Southeastern and Border States. A marked diminution in the number of outrages committed upon the freedmen is observable. A growing disposition is manifested by the civil authorities at most of the centers of population to care for the destitute among the freedmen, and the inclination to administer the laws with impartiality between whites and blacks makes sure but gradual progress. The most prolific cause of complaint at the present time is the great difficulty encountered by the planters and their hands in agreeing upon a division of the crops. Disputes of this kind generally terminate in favor of the employers, and where it is apparent that the civil courts will not adjudicate fairly in these cases, agents of the Bureau have been constrained to interfere to secure justice; and that they have done so to the satisfaction of all parties concerned, many of the more intelligent and prominent planters have frequently testified in writing to the Assistant Commissioners.

NEGRO SUFFRAGE.

Letter from Judge Reagan, of Texas.

NEW YORK, October 9.—Judge Reagan, of Texas, a member of the Cabinet of Jeff. Davis, has written a letter to Gov. Throckmorton, in which he urges the people of Texas to give suffrage to the negroes on the same terms as it is given to the whites. He warns the people of the State that the North is in earnest in demanding suffrage for the blacks, and says that those who oppose negro suffrage in this qualified form elect to force universal negro suffrage on the country, and ought to be and will be held responsible by our people for it when it comes; and they ought no longer to be allowed to shield themselves under pretended ignorance from the consequences of such criminal demagoguery.

FROM NEW ORLEANS.

The State Fair—Episcopal Bishops—Fast Day in Alabama.

NEW ORLEANS, November 9.—The State Fair, to begin on the twentieth, promises to be a grand affair. There is every prospect of a most felicitous reunion of Northern and Southern interests.

The Bishops of the Episcopal Church left to-day to go to Kentucky, where an assistant to the Bishop of Kentucky is to be consecrated. The new Bishop of Louisiana stays here.

Governor Patton, of Alabama, has issued a proclamation ordering the observance of the 29th inst. as a day of fasting, humiliation and prayer.

NEW YORK ELECTION.

Governor Fenton's Majority 13,854.

NEW YORK, November 9.—Governor Fenton's majority at the latest accounts was 13,854.

NEW YORK, November 9.—The Tribune's figures increase Fenton's majority to fourteen thousand three hundred and six.

ITHICA, N. Y., November 9.—Sixty-two counties in this State give a Republican majority of 43,000—a gain of 28,000 since 1864. The Legislature will stand about as follows: Senate, 16 Republicans, 9 Democrats; House, 88 Republicans, 37 Democrats.

From Quebec.

QUEBEC, C. W., November 9.—It is understood that Her Majesty's steamer Night will proceed to Halifax, and her place here be supplied by two gunboats, manned by drafts from Her Majesty's steamer Aurora.

The New Brunswick Government has given six thousand dollars to the Quebec sufferers, and Nova Scotia has given five thousand. The Mayor has received another cable telegram authorizing another draft of £3,500 on the account of the relief fund. Contributions from England already reach $85,000, those from the United States over $10,000.

BY THE CABLE.

THE MEXICAN QUESTION

The Mission of Gen. Castelnau

Maximilian to Remain in Mexico.

Empress Carlotta Attempts Suicide

The Bright Banquet in Dublin.

The Turkish Difficulty Settled

Reception of Victor Emanuel at Venice.

FRANCE.

General Castelnau's Mission

PARIS, November 8.—General Castelnau will arrange for the retirement of the French troops from Mexico en masse, as Napoleon thinks that a march by detachment would be inconvenient. It was considered that France would be relieved of two huge incubi, Rome and Mexico, about the same period of time.

Carlotta Attempts Suicide.

The Empress of Mexico, now called the Princess Carlotta, is said to be afflicted with a religious monomania, always bewailing the injuries done to the Church in Mexico, and that her case is hopeless of cure. It is said the unfortunate lady had just attempted suicide by jumping from the window.

Transports for Mexico Ready.

PARIS, November 7.—The ships which have been ordered for the service of removing the French troops from Mexico are ready to sail.

Maximilian to Remain in Mexico.

The Moniteur of to-day says that Maximilian will remain in Mexico.

PRUSSIA.

National Work in Germany.

BERLIN, November 7.—Prussia sees in the appointment of Baron Beust as Minister of Foreign Affairs of Austria, an attempt on the part of the Cabinet of Vienna to interfere in questions considered settled. If this view is correct, it will compel the Prussian Government to complete more quickly and surely its national work in Germany.

GREAT BRITAIN.

The Bright Banquet in Dublin.

DUBLIN, November 8.—The Bright banquet in Dublin promises to be a grand national affair. The sentiments expressed by Cardinal Cullen and others go to show that Mr. Bright is likely to effect such a reunion of all good and worthy Irishmen as will secure the legitimate removal of existing grievances.

Mr. Gladstone's Mission.

LONDON, November 9.—The London Herald this morning says Mr. Gladstone's mission to Rome is to reconcile the Pope to his fate.

The Russo-Prussian Alliance.

The rumor of the failure of the Russo-Prussian alliance is unfounded.

Shipping Intelligence.

The ship Young Eagle, Captain Walker, from Callao, is aground at Dunkirk.

TURKEY.

The Difficulty with the United States Settled.

CONSTANTINOPLE, November 7.—The difficulty between the Sultan's government and the Cabinet of the United States, growing out of the conduct of the Turkish officials towards the Consul and Consulate of America, on the island of Cypress, has been settled.

ITALY.

Reception of Victor Emanuel at Venice.

VENICE, November 7.—King Victor Emanuel, the ruler of united Italy, entered the city at eleven o'clock this morning. The Patriarch of Venice received him in the Church of St. Mark, where a Te Deum was chanted in honor of the event. The reception given by the authorities and people was magnificent, and great joy was manifested everywhere. The crowd which turned out was so immense that the troops could not defile before the King for want of space. The National Guard of Venice has been mobilized.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL.

London Money Market.

LONDON, November 7.—noon.—Consols for money opened at 89¼. The following are the closing prices of American Securities: Registered and Erie shares, 52; Illinois Central, 77; U. S. 5-20s, 69.

Liverpool Markets.

LIVERPOOL, November 9.—The Brokers' Circular reports the sales of cotton for the week at 76,000 bales. Middling uplands to-day, have declined ⅛d, closing at 14½d.

THANKSGIVING PROCLAMATION.

PENNSYLVANIA SS.

In the name and by the Authority of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

ANDREW G. CURTIN, Governor of said Commonwealth.

[L. S.] A PROCLAMATION.

WHEREAS, It hath been the good and worthy custom of the Commonwealth to set apart, annually, a day for the special acknowledgment of the goodness of the ALMIGHTY, and for expressing, by the whole people, at one time, and with a common voice, the THANKS and PRAISE which throughout the year are springing from the hearts of men; therefore,

I, ANDREW G. CURTIN, Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, do, by this my Proclamation, recommend that the good people of the Commonwealth observe

Thursday, the 29th day of November next,

as a day of Thanksgiving and Prayer, and do then assemble in their respective Churches and places of worship, and make their humble thank-offering to ALMIGHTY GOD for all His blessings during the past year.

For the abundant gathered fruits of the earth;

For the thus far continued activity of Industry;

For the general preservation of Health;

And especially for that in His DIVINE MERCY, He hath stayed the threatened Pestilence.

And, moreover, that they do beseech Him to continue unto us all His Blessings, and to confirm the hearts of the people of these United States, that by the lawful force of their will, Deeds of good JUSTICE, WISDOM and MERCY may be done.

Given under my hand and the great seal of the State, at Harrisburg, this twenty-ninth day of October, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and sixty-six, and of the Commonwealth the ninety-first.

BY THE GOVERNOR:

ELI SLIFER,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.

POLITICAL.

The Postmaster at Hummelstown, Dauphin county, and the officer at Annville, Lebanon county, were removed a few days ago and sound Copperheads appointed.

A model Democrat, whose name is not given, was rewarded for his party services during the late campaign by his appointment as Postmaster at Avon, on the line of the Lebanon Valley railroad, in place of Mr. Light, a good, Radical Republican. Being unable to read and write, he tendered the appointment of deputy to Mr. L., who couldn't "see it" and declined. It is said that no competent man can be found in the neighborhood who will act as deputy, and the newly-appointed officer will be obliged to get somebody to write to the department that he declines the office.

The Kittanning Republican thinks, Major McCandless, the United States Collector for the Twenty-third district, has been exercising the appointing power rather extensively in that neighborhood, and says: Mr. Buffington, the Deputy Collector for this county, appointed by D. N. White, Esq., upon the removal of that gentleman, resigned, and the office was peddled about here for a month or two. Finally George T. Crawford, Esq., was appointed, and as he understood it, without conditions. He entered upon the duties of his appointment a short time before the election. Previous to the (election), however, he was asked to vote for a certain portion of the Democratic ticket, and he refused to do so, which fact was reported to the chief, and his removal followed in a very short short time after. This we consider about the smallest transaction that has come to our knowledge for a long time, but characteristic of the friends of "my policy." James G. Henry, Esq., is Mr. Crawford's successor.

THE PRESIDENT SURPRISED BUT NOT CONVERTED.—A Washington dispatch says: "It is understood that the President had been assured so positively of certainty of success in New York by Thurlow Weed and others, if the course in relation to appointments marked out by them was followed, that he firmly believed that State at least would indorse his policy. The defeat of John Hogan in Missouri also considerably surprises him, as he regarded his reelection as unquestionable. His intimate personal and political relations with Mr. Hogan makes his defeat particularly unpalatable. There is, however, no reason to suppose that the emphatic condemnation of his policy by the loyal States will induce him to change his course in regard to reconstruction.

SECOND EDITION.

4 O'CLOCK, A. M.

THE FENIANS.

HOPE FOR THE CONDEMNED.

Sentence Commuted to Imprisonment.

The Trials at Toronto.

Further Postponement of Cases.

Movements of C. O. I. R. Stephens.

NEW YORK, November 9.—The World's Quebec special says: The correspondence between the Canadian Government and Her Majesty's representative at Washington, is understood to have resulted in the recall of the death sentence recently pronounced against the condemned Fenians, and the substitution therefor of imprisonment for a term of years. Messrs. Wells, Bell and Flannagan have been released without trial. The action of the Government in commuting the death sentences will probably be made known publicly in a few days.

The Montreal Gazette, Government organ, reiterates its statement that the British Government has instructed its representatives to see that the Fenian prisoners are not only tried by a regular tribunal, but afforded all the benefit of the most humane penal code.

TORONTO, C. W., November 9.—Court met at ten o'clock A. M. There was the same counsel for the Crown and defense as in the previous trials. Peter Curran, alias Daye, and Henry Lavelle were first placed in the dock. The former is a tall, stout man, of light complexion with blue eyes, and has a moustache and beard. He has the appearance of a laboring man, and seemed to between forty and fifty years of age. Henry Lavelle is about the same age; has dark eyes and hair, and has a most unassuming countenance. He was dressed in a shabby suit of black, and wore a white necktie.

Mr McKensie—I move, my Lord, in these cases, to quash the indictment, on the same grounds as in O'Neil's case, and the further ground that the offence took place previous to the passing of act 29 and 30, viz: chapter 4.

The indictment having been read, the prisoners, by direction of their counsel, plead not guilty.

His Lordship—When are likely to be ready to go on with their trials?

Mr. McKensie—I am afraid, my Lord, not for some time. There are a number of witnesses whom we have not been able to procure. Better let the time be indefinite.

Hon. H. Cameron—It would be better if my learned friend could name some day, so that we might have our witnesses here. The Crown has been put to considerable expense, and we are prepared to proceed in all the cases in which true bills have been found.

Mr. McKensie—Before the day is over it is my intention to make a proposition to my learned friend, whereby the remainder of these cases may be deferred until next assizes.

His Lordship—Well, if any arrangement can be arrived at, I am satisfied.

The prisoners were then removed.

John Gallagher, John Grace, Daniel Querin, and John Moran were then placed in the dock. Grace, since his incarceration, has received $1,500 as his proportion of the reward offered for the arrest of John Wilkes Booth, he being one of the troopers who joined in the capture.

Mr. McKensie—I also make the same motion in these cases.

The prisoners then severally pleaded not guilty.

Bernard Dunn was next arraigned. He is a tall, powerful-looking man, between forty and fifty years of age, and like the preceding prisoners, pleaded not guilty.

Mr. McKensie made a similar motion in this case.

Patrick Donohue is a man apparently between twenty and thirty years of age, with dark eyes, moustache and hair, and appeared to be the most respectable-looking of the lot. He was neatly dressed in a suit of black, and when he was placed in the dock, stated that he was anxious to have his trial proceeded with as soon as possible. To the indictment he pleaded "not guilty," and his trial, by consent of the counsel, was fixed for the 13th inst. Mr. McKensie also moved to quash the indictment of this case on the same grounds as in the previous cases.

Frederick Fry, a Swiss, next appeared at the bar. He is a small man, with repulsive features. He stated that he had served in the British and United States armies.

Mr. McKensie—In this case, my Lord, I think we will be ready about the middle of next week. I also, in this case, make the same motion as regards the indictment being bad in law.

Wm. Baker was the next prisoner placed in the dock. The same plea was put in by counsel, and the defendant pleaded "not guilty," and stated that he was not ready for trial.

At this stage a lengthy discussion took place between the learned counsel on both sides. Mr. McKensie for the prisoner, desiring to postpone the trial of Hughes's case without having, as the Crown alleged, any reasonable cause for doing so.

The Queen versus McGrath. In this case, which was tried yesterday, and resulted in a verdict of "not guilty," after the rendering of which a new indictment was prepared against the prisoner.

Mr. McKensie, for the prisoner, pleaded autrefois acquit.

Hon. J. H. Cameron desired a jury to be empannelled at once, to try the issue.

Mr. McKenzie requested a delay until to-morrow morning.

Mr. Cameron—I will join issue upon the plea, my Lord, but I must object to the postponement. The plea is a dilatory one, and there is no reason why the matter cannot be at once decided. Unless there is an affidavit put in I must object.

Mr. McKenzie stated that he required time to consider the question, and after some discussion it was agreed that the issue raised in McGrath's case should be tried on Monday.

James Burk, James Spaulding, and William Orr, were then placed in the dock, and having been arraigned, pleaded not guilty, and that they were not ready for trial.

Mr. McKenzie, in these cases, made a similar motion to quash the indictments.

The Queen vs. Daniel Diamond. This prisoner was next placed in the dock. Some time was occupied in empanelling a jury, twenty jurors being challenged by the prisoner's counsel.

Mr. McNabe, in opening the case for the Crown, observed that the indictment in this case charged the prisoner as an American citizen, and was framed similar to the others that had been preferred. The prisoner was arrested on Saturday, the 2d day of June, at a place called Frenchman's Creek, with a six barreled revolver in his possession, and from the suspicious account he had given of himself the Crown had deemed it their duty to indict him. As there were a number of witnesses he would proceed to call the evidence.

John Metcalf sworn: I was present at the fight at Ridgeway, and saw ensign McEachran shot there. The prisoner made the following statement, which I took down at the time: He said he was an American citizen, and a native of Ireland; that he was a Roman Catholic, and worked as a puddler; that he usually resided in Philadelphia, and left there for Pittsburgh; then he was in Buffalo six or seven weeks before the raid; that he came over into Canada on the 1st of June; that he returned to Buffalo the same night, and crossed over again on Saturday, when he was arrested.

Reuben Mosser sworn: On Saturday morning, by directions of Capt. King, I arrested the prisoner about four miles from Fort Erie, on the bank of the Niagara River. I asked him if he had any arms; he replied not. I then searched him, when he told me he had a revolver, and put his hand into his pocket and drew it out. It was a six barreled revolver, but not capped.

Cross-examined by Mr. McKenzie—When I arrested him he said he was no Fenian.

Thomas Somerbury sworn—I belong to the Welland Battery, and was present with several others when the prisoner was arrested. As we we were going down the river some one cried out "a Fenian." Captain King then ordered us to arrest him. He said he was no Fenian, but refused to state where he came from. There were some cartridges taken from him by one Higgins.

Nelson Higgins sworn—Corroborated the evidence of the preceding witnesses.

Elon Tapper sworn, but objected to by Mr. McKensie, on the ground that the witness's name was not on the back of the indictment. The Fenians arrived in Fort Erie on the 1st of June.

Mr. McKensie here objected that so far there was no evidence that the prisoner was a Fenian, and the witnesses could not be asked what other persons did tell. It was proved that the prisoner was not connected with Fenianism.

His Lordship overruled the opinion.

Examination continued. They asked provisions for 1000 men, but there were not as many as that; they landed at the lower ferry, and from thence marched to the village. Some of them staid on the brow of the hill, and the remainder were on the front street searching for provisions.

Cross-examined by Mr. Fleming—It is a customary thing in the States to carry revolvers.

Joseph Newbiggin, sworn—The Fenians, when the prisoner was arrested, were on Edwin Hutzenis's farm, about four miles below Fort Erie.

This closed the case for the Crown.

The following witnesses were called for the defense:

Joseph Coone, sworn—I reside in Buffalo, and am Superintendent of the Buffalo Iron and Nail Company. The prisoner was in our employ for about a month before the raid as a puddler. He was a transient hand. On the 2d of June I heard that he was in Canada. When with us he bore a good character. I am an Englishman, and have resided in the States since 1830. In times of excitement it is customary to carry revolvers. At the time of the raid a good many people went over to Canada out of curiosity.

Cross-examined: I employ between two and three hundred hands. The factory is quite close to where the Fenians embarked.

Margaret Sweeney, sworn: I reside at Black Rock. I know the prisoner; he boarded at my house; he was there on Friday, the 1st of June; I remember the day by the boys making such a fuss looking at the company going beyont into Canady. My son called the prisoner up in the morning. I generally go to bed early, but the boys—

Cross examined by Mr. McNabe: The Fenians were beyont the river when I got up. I saw nothing of the prisoner after Friday. He was a good character, and as good a boy as was ever in the house.

Kate McLague sworn: I keep a saloon at Black Rock, and know the prisoner. On Thursday night I saw the prisoner taking his beer in my shop. I also saw him on Friday night and Saturday morning. I remember the Fenians passing over into Canada in June last.

Mr. McKenzie put in the affidavits of John Jenkins and others of New York, as to the prisoner's character. This closed the case for the defense.

Mr. McKenzie addressed the Jury in a long and eloquent speech in behalf of the prisoner. R. A. Harrison replied in behalf of the Crown, in a temperate and eloquent speech.

The Grand Jury entered Court, bringing in true bills against Patrick Cooney and John Cooney.

His Lordship then charged the jury. The jury retired until half past four, and returned a verdict of not guilty.

The following letter was received to-day by one of the Crown officers, purporting to come from Michael Murphy:

BUFFALO, November 7, 1866.—SIR:—The Fenians, Irishmen, I am most ashamed as an Irishman to say, have adhered to their enemies. Now I wish to propose a plan to end all this trouble for you in Canada. Get together all your Fenian prisoners, and take them to the American lines, and set them over with a warning not to be caught again. That will end the matter at once. These people might have made you trouble if they had gone with the Union party. They have gone as they always have, with their enemies, and now will have to get their help from them, and little can they get from them; all they want from them are their votes, and now they know they can have them in any event, so they will give them no aid to their scheme to invade your country, for they see they can only go there against the Republicans always, as they always have done. My countrymen, I am very sorry to say, profess to love liberty, but still go for the party which does not love it. They do not understand the meaning of the word; in fact, they do not know what they want; if they did they know not how to realize it. There will be an end to Fenian troubles here and elsewhere, you will see, so let go your prisoners, and the only thing which will give the agitators anything to agitate about will be gone. All will conclude that it is best for Ireland to remain under the control of England, as they have not sense enough to control themselves. Yours respectfully, (Signed) MICHAEL MURPHY.

WASHINGTON, November 9.—Odd Fellows' Hall was well filled this evening with Fenians, to express their sympathies in response to the call of National Executive Committee of Irish Citizens, to express the sentiments of the Irish at the capital in regard to the trials of the Fenians in Canada. Resolutions were adopted denouncing the action of the Canadian authorities, calling on the United States Government to interpose in behalf of the prisoners, etc. Several able speakers addressed the meeting. Considerable enthusiasm was displayed by the audience, and the denunciations of British tyranny and the exposition of the wrongs of Ireland, elicited energetic applause.

Information is received that the Canadian authorities will comply with the request of the United States Government to be promptly furnished with records of the trials of the United States citizens arrested as Fenian invaders.

NEW YORK, November 9.—The report that Mr. James Stephens, C. O. I. R., left Thursday evening for Ireland, is totally without foundation. Mr. Stephens has been in his office and busily engaged throughout the day. His departure must be near at hand, but when he starts and from whence will be only known to Colonel Kelly and two others. It is probable the general public will be kept in ignorance of his movements for the next three weeks. No information can be obtained from Headquarters.

HIGHLY INTERESTING.

NEW YORK, November 9.

JEFF. DAVIS.

A correspondent a few days ago visited Carroll Hall, a spacious building within Fortress Monroe, erected originally to accommodate the officers on duty, but lately made noteworthy as the prison house of Jeff. Davis. A number of men were engaged in removing the iron bars from the windows and making other alterations to contribute to the comfort of Mr. Davis. His family intend to take up their quarters within the Hall. A suite of rooms will be set apart, and they will need a large reception parlor to accommodate the visitors.

THE GREAT EASTERN.

A correspondent says that the Great Eastern has been chartered by M. Desplene, to ply between New York and Brest during the season of the Paris Exposition.

THE HARRIET LANE.

A Havana letter says: The steamer Harriet Lane is expected to reach New York in a couple of weeks. Her history is curious and interesting. After being captured by the Confederates at Galveston, she was sold to Mr. House, of Hamilton, who loaded her with cotton, and she succeeded in reaching this port, where she has remained ever since. Mr. House transferred the vessel to Mr. Hurbly, at present a clerk in his employ, who in turn executed an unconditional and irrevocable power of attorney to Captain Scott, who claims the vessel, he having executed a bond for $10,000. Mr. House, who has been pardoned by the President, turns over all claims he may have on the Harriet Lane to the United States, and United States naval officers are expected to arrive at Havana to take charge of the vessel unless Capt. Scott institutes suit on behalf of himself and the parties for whom he is acting, among whom General J. B. Magruder presents a little claim of over $6,000. There will be no further delay in the matter. The amount realized from sales of cotton brought by the Harriet Lane, together with the sum of $25,000 received from the English Insurance Companies, being the amount paid for damages to the ship by fire, while lying in the harbor of Havana, was invested jointly by the confederate agents and Mr. House, in the purchase of the steamer Pelican, which will be placed in the hands of Messrs. Morrall and Esco, of Havana, and by them consigned to a New York firm, who will sell the steamer, and the proceeds to be divided by the United States and Mr. House. These are the remnants of the late Confederacy in Cuba, only a half dozen of ex Confederates remaining in Havana, engaged in commercial and mechanical pursuits.

NEWS OF SIR JOHN FRANKLIN.

The Captain and part of the crew of the American whaling ship Antelope, which was lost last October near Neantelik Island, have arrived at St. Johns. The Commercial Journal of that town says: The officers of the Antelope bring interesting information of discoveries made by Mr. C. F. Hall respecting the Franklin expedition. Mr. Hall has in his possession a gold watch, some silver spoons and other articles supposed to have belonged to the Franklin party. He also learned that the remains of some of Franklin's men were lying under a boat in Committee Bay, where they had been placed by the natives after death. The natives would not permit Mr. Hall to go on to examine them, but as several vessels will winter in Repulse Bay, it is believed Mr. Hall will secure assistance and push his way to where the remains are situated.

FINANCIERS IN DURANCE VILE.

Three men, named Riley, Harriott and Wheeler, officers of a mining company on Wall street, have been arrested and lodged in the county jail. The facts of the case which led to the arrest and incarceration of these men have not yet been fully developed, but are said to be of an extraordinary character.

FUNERAL OF SIMEON DRAPER.

The funeral of Simeon Draper took place at St. Bartholomew's Church, corner of Lafayette Place and Great Jones street, this afternoon.

FROM MEXICO.

Liberal Troops Marching on Durango—Important Victory at Palos Paerto—Decree from President Juarez.

WASHINGTON, November 9.—The Mexican Legation received to-day official dispatches from Chihuahua up to the 15th ult. General Amada was already on his way to Durango. It was thought that the Imperial garrison would evacuate the city before the approach of Gen. Amada.

The official paper of the 15th ult., publishes the official report of Gen. Correna, of the important victory obtained by his troops over the French at Palos Puerto, near Mazatlan on the 17th of September last.

A decree from President Juarez, dated the 15th of October, is already published. It declares that the Louisiana and Tehauntepec Company, to open steam communication by the Isthmus of Tehauntepec, having failed to fulfil the obligations imposed upon them by the decrees of September 7th, 1857, March 28th, 1859, and October 25th, 1860, have lost their rights to that undertaking. A grant for the same is made to the Tehauntepec Transit Company, organized lately in the city of New York. This company sent some months ago a special agent to the seat of the Mexican government, to negotiate for this grant. The grant is liberal, while it fully protects the rights and interests of Mexico.

President Juarez has pardoned the lives of two persons who joined the French while they were at Chihuahua, and who had been sentenced to death by the courts.

FROM PHILADELPHIA.

Narrow Escape from Death—A Child Falls from a Third-story Window, and is not Seriously Injured—Family Rescued from a Burning Building.

PHILADELPHIA, November 9.—An alarm of fire was given last night about twelve o'clock. On reaching the spot the fire was found to proceed from the fancy soap and perfumery store of Randall & Co., on Chestnut street, above Thirteenth. The firemen actively endeavored to suppress the fire, but despite their efforts it gained rapid headway. When at its height it was announced that a family were sleeping in the upper part of the building, and just as the word was given, there appeared at one of the windows a little child twelve years of age, who cried frantically for help. The firemen immediately placed their ladders in position to rescue the sufferer, but before they could ascend the child sprang from the third story window, and fell with great force on the top of the store window, from which place it was immediately rescued and taken into a neighboring house, when a physician was sent for to minister to its injuries. It was soon discovered that the child had sustained no further injuries than several severe sprains. Soon after the mother of the child, Mrs. Hartwell, and her two daughters, were taken from the burning structure in an exhausted condition.

INTERESTING STATISTICS.

From Raleigh, N. C.

RALEIGH, N. C., November 9.—A general Court-martial has been convened at this city by order of General Sickles, for the trial of Major Alexander Goslin, A. Q. M., of Buffalo, New York, and other prisoners. The Court has organized and will proceed with the trial of Captain C. Brown, 37th United States Colored Troops, of Boston, Acting Commissary, under charges alleging various fraudulent sales of Government property. The case of Major Goslin is not ready for trial, and will not be taken up for a week. The military Commission for the trial of the Bureau cases is still in session, but has no cases before it on trial.

Case of the Baltimore Police Commissioners.

BALTIMORE, November 9.—The argument on the habeas corpus case of the Police Commissioners and Sheriff Thompson was continued to-day before Judge Bartol. At a late hour adjournment was had until Saturday, when the arguments of the counsel will be resumed. It is supposed that Bartol will not render a decision upon the points involved before Saturday.

From St. Louis.

ST. LOUIS, November 9.—The returns received to-day don't materially change the result as reported yesterday.

A party of miners from Montana arrived at Omaha on Wednesday with $300,000 in gold dust. Another party reached St. Joseph yesterday with $100,000.

Probable Murder in Philadelphia.

PHILADELPHIA, November 9.—A journeyman baker, residing in the southern part of the city, was found in the cellar of his house to-day, with his throat cut. He was removed to the hospital and soon died. The affair is involved in complete mystery.

GEORGIA.

THE AMENDMENT REJECTED.

The Vote Againts it Almost Unanimous.

MILLEDGEVILLE, GA., November 9.—The Legislature rejected the Constitutional Amendment. The rejecting resolution reads:

Resolved, That the Legislature of Georgia declines to ratify the amendment adding the fourteenth article to the Constitution of the United States.

A motion was made in the Senate to postpone its consideration to some future day, but was amended to merely adopting the above resolution, and this passed by yeas 36, nays none, the full Senate voting. In the House the vote stood yeas 131, nays 2.

Mr. Ellington, of Gilmour, and Mr. Humphreys, of Fannier, the Committee, on reporting this resolution, accompany the report with a lengthy argument, in substance as follows: First, that the States of the United States alone are authorized to consider Constitutional Amendments. Second, that such amendments must be proposed by two-thirds of Congress, or the Legislatures of two thirds of the States. Third, that Georgia was one of the original States, and must have always continued such unless she reserved the right to secede or gave the Federal Government the right to eject her.

The report adduces the legislation of Congress, proclamations of Presidents, and the issues made during the war by the Government of the United States, to prove it was held by the Government that no State could secede, and only interrupted the practical relations of the States thereto, and the suppression of the rebellion was to restore these relations firmly, and the Constitution would then become the supreme law of the land.

The argument then goes on to declare that Georgia and other States are integral parts of Congress, and no Constitutional Congress can be convened while such integral portions are forcibly excluded. It says the adoption of the Emancipation amendment is no precedent for the adoption of this, the Southern States having at that time no delegations to be received into Congress as now, when denied admittance, and then concludes by saying that as the Amendment in question was not proposed by two thirds of the Constitutional Congress, the Committee recommend the adoption of the resolution above given.

NEW JERSEY ELECTION.

Union Majority in the State 2,000—The Vote for Congressmen.

NEWARK, N. J., November 9.—As the returns have become more nearly perfect, we are enabled to state as the result of the election as follows: The Republican majority in the State is a little over 2,000. The majority for Haley, Republican, in the Fifth Congressional District is 921. That of Hill, Republican, in the Fourth District, is 865. Huyler, the independent Democratic candidate, receiving less than 200 votes in the whole District. Newell, Republican, in the Second District, is defeated by a small majority.

DELAWARE ELECTION.

Democratic Majority in the State 1,516.

WILMINGTON, DEL., November 9.—The Gazette claims the following as the vote of the State. The Commercial thinks it is too high for Saulsbury, the Democratic candidate: Newcastle county, for Riddle, 179; Kent county, for Saulsbury, 828; Sussex county, for Saulsbury, 787; total for Saulsbury, 1,695; for Riddle 179. Democratic majority in the State, 1,516. Sussex county, Broad creek and Little creek united give Saulsbury 446 majority, a Union loss of 112. Cedar creek gives Riddle 76 majority, a Union loss of 67. The whole of Kent county is estimated to give Saulsbury 932 majority.

MARYLAND ELECTION.

The Status of the Legislature.

BALTIMORE, November 9.—Allegheny county elects the Republican ticket for the Legislature, as do all the counties in Frank Thomas's district. The next Legislature will stand as follows: Senate, 18 Democrats, 7 Unionists; House of Delegates, 59 Democrats to 21 Republicans. The presiding officer of the Senate, Lieut. Gov. Cox, will also act with the Democrats. The Republicans only carry four counties in the State. This is reliable, and there will be no change from these figures.

From Panama.

NEW YORK, November 9.—By the steamer Henry Chauncey we have the Panama Star of November 1st. The steamer Peru, from South American ports, arrived at Panama on the 29th. She brought $3,000 in specie. The news is not important.

In South Peru commerce had suffered severely from the fall in salt petre.

The Italian ship R. Pratolongo, had arrived at Callao, with 445 Asiatics on board from Macao. Out of the whole cargo of 490, only seven died on a voyage of one hundred and twenty days.

Twenty-one political prisoners had been brought to Callao from Arequipa. Among them are Gen. De Ramon, Dargus, Machuca and Lieut. Col. Don Jose Canzos. From Central America there is nothing new.

From Galveston.

GALVESTON, November 9.—The Committee on Judiciary of the Texas Legislature, report that the sudden change in the status of the negro demand such laws as their present condition requires. They should be protected by wise and just legislation. Their removal, however desirable, cannot be even pushed for many years to come. If not governed and controlled by our laws, they will be by those who know nothing of their true wants and capacity, who can battle best for their interests, so that their power will be perpetuated which has acquired force.

Assassination in Kentucky.

LOUISVILLE, November 9.—Dr. J. H. Baker, at Nolin's Furnace, Edmondson county, was assassinated Tuesday morning. Investigations throw suspicion on John Vanmeter as the assassin. Cause not yet developed.

The Major General commanding the Department announces that he will permit no military display over the remains of ex-rebel Gen. Roger W. Hanson, which are expected here to-morrow, en route to Lexington for reinterment.

Louisville River Report.

LOUISVILLE, November 9.—River falling with seven feet nine inches in the canal. Weather moderate and cloudy, indicating rain.

New Railroad Route.

FORTRESS MONROE, November 7.—The air line route from Norfolk to Philadelphia and New York, is now open for travel.

The Empress of Mexico.

A Paris correspondence writes that the condition of the Empress of Mexico leaves little room for hope. It has been thought advisable to remove her from the Castle of Miramar, which is built on the edge of a rock, to a house in the garden. After her interview with the Holy Father, in which he refused to accede to any of her demands, the idea that she was being poisoned took firm possession of her. She dismissed some of the Mexican gentlemen attached to her service, and even then ate nothing which she had not given to be tasted by a large cat. She repaid its service by ordering it a pair of boots, and giving it the order of Guadaloupe. She took nothing but chocolate and roasted chestnuts, and drank only lemonade, which she called for herself at the confectioner's. The morning before her departure, famishing from her long abstinence, she went to the Vatican to get two eggs cooked in the shells. Her aversion to the sight of French soldiers was such that she insisted on the guard of honor being removed from the hotel she was staying at.

The Washburne Family.

This distinguished family, several of whose members have already made themselves famous in our national legislature, will be represented in the Fortieth Congress. No less than four Washburnes are already elected to the next House of Representatives—Elihu B. Washburne of Illinois, well known as chairman of the Committee on Commerce, in the present House, and the tireless champion and friend of General Grant; William B. Washburne of Massachusetts, a member of the present Congress; General C. C. Washburne of Wisconsin, a former member of Congress and a Major General of Volunteers during the rebellion; and Henry D. Washburne of Indiana, a member of the last House. The first three, are we believe, brothers, the fourth being their cousin. The head of the house is Israel Washburne of Maine, and older brother of the three Congressmen, himself an ex-Congressman and ex-Governor, and now in training for the United States Senatorship from Maine. A younger scion of the house is an aspirant for legislative honors in New Hampshire. All of them are staunch Radicals.

THE TWO COLORED MEN IN THE MASSACHUSETTS LEGISLATURE.—The Boston Traveller says: The two colored men who have been elected to the State Legislature will take their seats under most favorable auspices. The House is almost exclusively made up of their political friends, and they will receive courtesy and kindness from all. Their personal friends believe they will so demean themselves as to gain the respect and esteem of their associates, and warrant the confidence reposed in them by their constituents. They will not only be representatives of the Districts from which they come, but upon them will devolve the far higher and more responsible duty of representing a race about entering on a career of equal citizenship.

The Herald's Washington special say Ensign A. J. Kane, of the Navy, has arrived in Washington in order to answer charges preferred against him by Mr. Peck, our Minister to Hayti. It is alleged that Kane gave up certain papers entrusted to him by a prominent Haytien rebel to President Geffrard thereby exposing a plan to assassinate the latter and his Cabinet, by blowing up the principal arsenals in Port-au-Prince, and burn the city. The charge is that Kane received two thousand dollars in gold for this service.

THE Republican Banner, of Nashville, on the 3d inst., notices the passage through that city of several hundred returning Californians, mostly belonging to Illinois and Missouri. The party was originally eight hundred in number, and some of them had resided in California for fifteen years. The steamer on which they were was compelled to put into Charleston, S. C., for repairs. Finding they could get home sooner, they took the railroad from that point, intending to take the steamer at Johnsonville for Cairo and St. Louis.

CONSECRATION OF BISHOP WILMER.—Bishop Joseph P. Wilmer was consecrated as Bishop of Louisiana in Christ Church, New Orleans, on Wednesday. He was consecrated by Bishop Hopkins, of Vermont, as presiding Bishop, assisted by Bishops Green, of Mississippi; Wilmer of Alabama, and Quintard, of Tennessee. The Bishop of Georgia being absent, the sermon was preached by Bishop Hopkins.

CITY MATTERS.

FIRE ALARM TELEGRAPH.

The Line Inspected by the City Councils—The Test Satisfactory.

The new Fire Alarm Telegraph, which has been erected in this city by Messrs. Gamewell, Kennard & Co., of New York, was formally opened last evening. In accordance with previous arrangements, the Select and Common Councils of this city and Allegheny, and other invited guests, assembled at the main office at seven o'clock, and inspected the apparatus. The office, which is located in the second story of Wilkins Hall, on Fourth street, has been fitted up in a handsome manner, and contains the batteries, instruments, etc., necessary to operate the wires. The line is divided into four circuits, the aggregate extent of which is about twenty-eight miles. Forty-one signal boxes have been located in prominent parts of the city, and have been arranged in so judicious a manner as to render it unnecessary to go farther than two hundred yards to find one. Keys will be placed in stores near the boxes, and each policeman will also be furnished with one. When it is desired to give an alarm, the signal box is opened, and the spring or slide pulled downward, which will signal the operator at the main office, who will communicate immediately with the engine houses and sound the large alarm bell, which is also worked by electricity. The time consumed in giving a general alarm, is from twenty to thirty seconds. Mr. Samuel T. Purdy late of the Western Union Telegraph Company, has been appointed Superintendent. His assistants have not yet been selected.

A PRACTICAL TEST.

After Mr. Gamewell had explained the manner in which the line is operated, he proposed that Councils should give it a practical test by visiting one of the signal boxes and sounding a general alarm. Accordingly a key was handed to James McAuley, Esq., President of the Select Council, who, in company with Members of Councils and others, proceeded to the corner of Wood and Sixth streets, and gave the signal from Box Seventeen. The signal was given at fifteen minutes after 8 o'clock, and 20 seconds afterwards the large bell sounded. The Allegheny, Neptune, Duquesne and Vigilant steamers were on the ground within three minutes, and were followed immediately by the Eagle and Niagara. The Relief, which is located on Pennsylvania Avenue, in the Eighth ward, about a mile and a quarter from the box from which the alarm emanated, arrived in six minutes and a half, and was received with cheers by the large crowd which had collected. The Neptune engine house, on Seventh street, was next visited and the alarm and gong which has been placed therein, tested.

The Councils expressed themselves perfectly satisfied with the result of the experiment. The telegraph has been erected in the most substantial manner, and has been so arranged that it can be extended into Allegheny City, or any of the boroughs, should it be desired. The line will be completed and in working order at noon on Monday, at which time the contractors will transfer it to the city authorities.

FRANKLIN COTTON WORKS.—The Messrs. Hyde Brothers, sons of the late E. Hyde, Esq., have resumed the manufacture of cotton yarn, carpet chain, coverlet yarn, candlewick, twine, battings, cotton warps, etc., at the Franklin Cotton Works, on West Canal street, between Robinson and Lacock streets, Allegheny city. The high reputation which the Franklin mills obtained under the management of the father of the present proprietors, will be sustained by the Hyde Brothers, who give their personal attention to the operations of the establishment. Their long experience and the superior quality of their goods is a sufficient recommendation of their old establishment.

RETURNED FROM EUROPE.—Daniel O'Neill, Esq., of the Dispatch, and member of Council from the Second ward, arrived home on Thursday evening, after an absence of four months. After attending to the sacred duty for which his journey was undertaken, Mr. O'Neill made the tour of the European Continent—or at least as much of it as the interests of the season would admit of—notes of which he has already given to the readers of the Dispatch in very readable letters. His health, previously none of the best, has evidently been much improved by the trip, and he returns to his editorial labors with renewed vigor.

INSTALLATION OF PASTOR.—To-morrow (Sunday) evening, at 7 o'clock, the Rev. S. J. Wilson, D. D., will be installed pastor of the Sixth Presbyterian Church of this city. Rev. W. D. Howard, D. D., will preside and deliver the charge to the pastor. The Rev. Mr. Gilespie will preach the sermon, and Rev. A. C. McClelland will deliver the charge to the people. The services will be of an interesting character, and the public are cordially invited to attend.

OYSTERS FOR THE MILLION.—Messrs. J. B. McLaughlin & Co. are now established at No. 21 St. Clair street, as the agents of the oyster firm of Wm. L. Ellis & Co. The public can now obtain the freshest, largest and best oysters, canned, spiced, or in the shell, at the lowest prices. Fresh fish, fruits and game in great variety, received daily.

COMMITTED TO JAIL.—Neel Pully and Mrs. Eliza Cuddy, the principals in the row on Decatur street, on Thursday evening, during which officer Dressler was severely handled, were taken before Mayor McCarthy yesterday morning, which resulted in their commitment to jail, in default of a fine of twenty-five dollars each and costs.

HELD FOR TRIAL.—Samuel Early, charged with the larceny of one hundred and twenty dollars' worth of boots and shoes from G. H. Blum, on Fifth street, was committed to jail yesterday by the Mayor, in default of bail, for trial. A portion of the stolen goods were recovered.

TO ORGANIZE A HOSE COMPANY.—There will be a public meeting of the citizens of Birmingham held this evening at seven and a half o'clock, in the Town Hall, for the purpose of organizing a hose company.

FIREMEN'S ASSOCIATION.—The regular quarterly meeting of the Firemen's Association will be held on Monday evening, at their Hall, in the City Building.

LOST.—A small brass eagle was lost from the Eagle hose carriage last evening. The finder will please leave it at the engine house.

Public Amusements.

PITTSBURGH THEATRE.—"Flies in the Web"—one of the neatest and most enjoyable comedies that Mr. John Brougham ever wrote—was the first piece last evening. Though not played so well as it had been last season, its sparkling dialogue and effective situations were sufficient to cover a multitude of shortcomings on the part of the performers.

Somehow or other, in pieces of this kind, the Monk sisters are sadly missed by frequenters of the theater. They were neither of them remarkably good actresses; but Minnie never pumped her voice from the region of the diaphragm, neither did Ada dress her hair as if she had just been engaged out of a second-class "Varieties" saloon. They always pleased an audience by the evident care and conscientiousness they bestowed upon the characters they represented, and, more especially, by an indefinable air of self-respecting modesty that is too seldom seen upon the stage.

"Columbus Reconstructed" followed "Flies in the Web," and was given with more spirit than on any previous occasion. The company have succeeded in getting on better terms with the music, and their struggles with the dialogue have been crowned with comparative triumph. For the last time, to-night, this brilliant extravaganza will be repeated. With it we are to have Mr. Brougham as "O'Callaghan," and Mr. Cogeswell in "The Floating Beacon." The matinee will "consist"—as some of our contemporaries say—of "Richard the Third," wherein Mr. Sydney Marlowe, who is "a gentleman of this city," will "enact"—we believe enact is the word—the "crooked-backed tyrant." Isn't "crook-backed tyrant" the correct thing? This evening Mr. Brougham concludes his engagement, and on Monday, that most gorgeous of heresies—the vast and magnificent Vestvali—commences hers. Welcome the coming, speed the parting guest.

OPERA HOUSE.—There is positively but one chance more of seeing "The Three Guardsmen," a drama that we will again declare has been more liberally and splendidly produced than any piece a Pittsburgh audience has had the opportunity of enjoying for many seasons. Nothing but an extraordinary combination of beautiful scenery, handsome and appropriate costumes and excellent acting could have carried any piece through a successful career of two weeks. At the afternoon performance today the attractive and really powerful drama of "Marble Hearts" will be given. On Monday that accomplished and popular tragedian, Mr. E. L. Davenport, will make his appearance in "Hamlet." Years ago he was a great favorite here, and, since then, he has gained a reputation, throughout the United States and England, second to no one in the profession. He will be heartily welcomed after his long absence.

THE ARABIAN NIGHTS.—This afternoon and evening the final exhibition of this entertainment will be given. It has achieved an almost unexampled amount of popularity and, we believe, would have remained another week, had not Masonic Hall been pre-engaged by a Minstrel company. No doubt, on these farewell occasions, the gifts distributed will be of an unprecedently rich and costly description.

AIMS'S VARIETIES.—There was an immense crowd at the Varieties last evening, when Mr. W. C. Smythe had a complimentary benefit, and all the talent in the city volunteered to pay him a substantial compliment. The programme for to-night is varied and attractive as ever, and it is safe to predict there will not be a vacant seat nor inch of standing room five minutes after the rise of the curtain.

SANFORD'S MINSTRELS commence a brief season at Masonic Hall, on Monday evening.

Malaria Everywhere.

Rarely has there been a season as fruitful as this of malarious diseases. Not only on the prairies and in the valleys of the West; not merely in all the old haunts of Fever and Ague and Billious Remittent Fever have these prostrating diseases been unusually virulent; but they have extended to towns and cities never before infested with them, and have even ascended the mountains and attacked thousands of people supposed to have been placed by the laws of Nature above their reach. Hence we are compelled to admit that a fatal element pervades the Universal Air this season, and should at once resort to the only approved preventive of its consequences, HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS, a tonic so potent, an anti-septic so perfect, an alterative so irresistible, and a stimulant so pure, that it enables the human system to resist and baffle all the predisposing causes of disease. With the confidence that one clothed in incombustible garments might move among blazing buildings, the man who arms himself against malaria with this powerful defensive medicine may walk a fever-scourged district fearless of its insalubrious atmosphere. The intermittents and remittents at present so general in all parts of the country may be but the forerunners of a deadlier scourge now on its way westward from the far East. Prepare the system with HOSTETTER'S BITTERS for a successful battle with the mephitic causes of all epidemics. Be wise in time. Sold every where.—New York World, Nov. 6, 1866.

Meeting of the Pittsburgh Temperance League.

A meeting of the Pittsburgh Temperance League was held last evening in the Central Presbyterian Church, Smithfield street. The meeting was called to order by the President, Dr. A. G. McCandless, after which a prayer was offered by Mr. Little. The minutes of last meeting were read and approved.

Captain Chas. W. McHenry was then introduced by the Chairman, and delivered an eloquent and appropriate address on the "Great Cause of Temperance."

Dr. Robert Wray followed in a few appropriate remarks.

On motion of John D. Bailey, Esq., it was resolved that the regular meetings of the League be held on the third Friday of each month.

Mr. Little then made some brief remarks in relation to amending the License Law, so as to have licenses granted but twice a year. Dr. Wray and President McCandless also spoke on the same subject.

Dr. Wray moved that the Chairman, Dr. McCandless, John D. Bailey, Esq., and Capt. Chas. W. Henry, be appointed a committee to wait on the Judges of the Court and ascertain if it is necessary to grant license every month.

The motion was amended by Mr. Bailey, to continue the committee appointed last year for the purpose of attending to all business with the Court.

On motion, Dr. A. G. McCandless was re-elected President, and R. C. Miller, Esq., re-elected Secretary of the League, to serve for the ensuing year.

On motion, the present Executive Committee were also re-elected to serve for the ensuing year.

The League then adjourned.

Mr. E. L. Davenport.

As will be seen by the subjoined card from Manager Hess, the distinguished actor Mr. E. L. Davenport will perform an engagement at the Opera House next week, commencing on Monday evening:

NOVEMBER 9th, 1866, 5 o'clock P. M.

To the Editor of the Commercial:

Please allow me, through your valuable paper, to congratulate all lovers of the drama in its most highly cultivated and legitimately rendered form, upon a dispatch which I have this moment received from that polished gentleman and sterling actor, Mr. E. L. Davenport, finally yielding to my strongly pressed importunities of the past two months (almost daily) for him to favor us with a visit and a few of his delightful representations. His engagements in the East will not permit his remaining here beyond six nights, but during that time the great of those impersonations for which he is so celebrated will be given. Mr. Davenport will make the journey from Boston to this city expressly to pay this engagement, and will return directly upon its conclusion. Encouraged by the liberal manner in which my efforts in the production of a "scenic" piece, presented by the stock company alone, have been recognized, I had prepared and announced for Monday next another; but the receipt of Mr. Davenport's dispatch has decided me to postpone it for a week, as I do not wish to forego the pleasure that it will afford me to present that gentleman upon the stage of the Opera House. One of the most pleasurable points in this engagement is the knowledge gained from a former communication, received from Mr. Davenport, that he accepts it, much the more willingly, as he knows—being well informed of the resources of this establishment—that his support will be pleasantly adequate to all his desires in that respect.

Mr. Davenport will commence on Monday evening next, in Shakspeare's "Hamlet"—sufficient announcement, I presume, to the well-informed patrons of the drama (many of whom among the residents of Pittsburgh, have, no doubt, witnessed his masterly rendition of that most sublime character) to secure him a welcome of the utmost brilliancy.

Yours, very truly, C. D. HESS.

Supremacy.

"The house of Chickering" fully maintains its supremacy. Their factory is much the largest in the world; the number of Pianos turned out weekly exceeds that of any single manufacturer in America. Their pianos, when brought into close competition with those of any other maker, have always been pronounced superior, and their grand piano, which is the instrument that stamps the supreme reputation of a manufacturer is always chosen by the world's acknowledged great pianists as the only instrument on which they can reveal in the highest degree their skill, imagination and sentiments, and is consequently the leading concert piano in America. Further, the two great points upon which hinge all the present excellence of American pianos, viz: the full iron frame and the circular scale, are due to the personal genius and skill of Chickering & Sons. The Chickerings are sold in this city by Mellor & Co., the sole agents, No. 81 Wood street.

Base Ball Match.

The Independent, of Salem, Ohio, and the Rochester, of Rochester, Pa., indulged in a lively encounter on the grounds of the latter, yesterday, the result of which was as follows:

CASTING OF A TWENTY-INCH CANNON.—The monster twenty-inch cannon was cast at the Fort Pitt Works, on Wednesday. The casting had been delayed upon several previous occasions for different causes. The melted iron was placed in the mould or pit on Wednesday, and will not be ready to be removed for finishing for about two weeks. This monster when completed will be the third twenty-inch gun ever cast in the United States. The following are the weight, dimensions, &c: Weight—rough, 170,000 pounds; finished, 115,200 pounds. Length—rough, 243 inches; finished, 243½ inches. Diameters—Max: rough, 66 inches; Max: finished, 64 inches; Min: rough, 48 inches; finished, 34 inches. Bore, 20 inches. Depth of bore, 210 inches. Weight of solid shot, 1,000 pounds. Charge of powder, 80 pounds.

BOY RUN OVER.—A little boy named McCullough, while attempting to cross Ohio street, in front of the market house, Allegheny, on Thursday evening, was knocked down by a passing wagon, the driver not having observed the lad on the street. The wheels of the wagon passed over the boy's breast and one of his hands. He was conveyed into the Mayor's office, and Dr. John Hamilton summoned, who dressed the wounds. The lad's hand was crushed very badly, but strange to say he was not seriously injured in the breast. He was afterwards taken to the residence of his parents on Middle alley, Allegheny.

INTERMENTS IN THE CITY.—The number of interments in the city during the week ending November 3, as reported by Dr. G. L. McCook, Physician of the Board of Health, was eighteen—nine adults and nine children. The causes of death were as follows: Typhoid Dysentery, 1; Typhoid Fever, 2; Dysentery, 1; Consumption, 2; Pulmonary Consumption, 1; Pneumonia, 1; Unknown, 1; Hydrocephalus, 1; Pneumonia, 2; Diphthetic Croup, 1; Laryngitis, 1; Still Born, 2; Diptheria, 1; Congestion of Lungs, 1.

RELEASED ON BAIL.—Samuel Williams, who was committed to jail on the 23d of October by Mayor Morrison for the larceny of a watch from John Brown, in the Allegheny lock-up, was released yesterday, having procured the necessary bail for his appearance at the December term to answer. Thomas Scanlon, who was committed by Burgess Wm. H. Barker, of South Pittsburgh, for breach of the peace, was also released upon entering bail for trial.

TRINITY CHURCH GUILD.—An association bearing the above name has been organized for the purpose of securing a more thorough work in Christian missions, etc., in the lower part of the city. They will commence their work by opening a Sunday school to-morrow afternoon at half past two o'clock, in the First Ward School House. Notice of their first free choral service will be found in our advertising columns.

DERANGED.—A man named James Donnelly, residing on Monterey street, Second ward, Allegheny, became suddenly deranged on Thursday afternoon, and threatened to kill his whole family, besides committing other insane acts. The police were sent for, who conveyed him to the Allegheny lock-up, where he now is. An effort will be made to have him removed to the Dixmont Hospital.

A SURE PILE CURE.—Dr. Gilbert's Pile Instrument positively cures the worst cases of Piles. Sent by mail on receipt of $4. Circulars free. Sold by Druggists. Agent wanted everywhere. Address J. B. Romaine, Manager, No. 575 Broadway, New York. †

ANNA CORA RITCHIE says: "I find the Wheeler & Wilson machine invaluable. I have used it a year, and it has never been out of order." Sole agency for this celebrated machines is at 27 Fifth street.

NINTH WARD.—Sunday school at nine in the morning, service at four in the afternoon—in Skating Park building.

Still Another Cure.

MESSRS. EDITORS—That the deaf may know where to find aid, I hereby make known the fact that I was so deaf for several years that I could not hear a watch tick, and that Dr. Aborn, at the Merchants Hotel, has by a few operations, so restored my hearing that I now can hear. His method or treatment is of the most scientific, and unaccompanied by pain.

JOHN KRASS, Mt. Washington.

MARRIED:

TAYLOR—McCLURG—On Thursday evening, November 8th, 1866, by the Rev. Squire, Dr. JAMES TAYLOR, of Coultersville, to Miss JOSEPHINE McCLURG, of this city. No cards.

MR. SEWARD AND HIS PROPHECIES.

The right of any man to predict future events, if he is able, we do not call in question, although we reserve the right to give his performance as little faith as we please. But we are not so free to admit the propriety of a public functionary making traffic of his accredited sagacity by making a party argument of his predictions, until they are verified by events. At any rate, he is to be held to his argument, in the sense in which he used it, although it turns against him. This is precisely Mr. SEWARD's unfortunate position.

A couple of months ago in a speech at Niagara, during the famous tour, he put himself seriously upon the prophetic office and uttered the following words: "I want the Republicans to nominate the man (FENTON) they intend to nominate for Governor of the State of New York, to test their principles, and in the election now some weeks off, if he is not defeated by a majority of forty thousand, do not call me a prophet."

The Republicans did nominate the man. They nominated him to test their principles, which Mr. SEWARD was opposed to. He anticipated Mr. FENTON's defeat by a majority of 40,000. That defeat would be fairly interpreted, according to Mr. SEWARD, as the condemnation of Republican principles, and an approval of those which Mr. JOHNSON and Mr. SEWARD were peripatetically advocating on their tour. But Mr. FENTON was not defeated by 40,000 majority, and so Mr. SEWARD's prophetical "rough garment worn to deceive," drops from his person, and leaves the world free to regard him as no prophet. Mr. FENTON was elected by 12,000 majority. Nor do figures alone furnish the measure of the triumph of Republican principles in the case. Mr. FENTON was opposed by the formidable liquor interest of New York City. He was also opposed on account of extensive dissatisfaction with his exercise of pardoning power. In fact, there seems to have been but one thing to secure his success, and that was the grand test question involved in Republican principles, so that, a fair reckoning on that ground alone would give him a majority of 40,000 rather than a defeat by that number.

Well, Mr. SEWARD's prophetic fame being reduced to a negative quantity, how shall it be with his honesty as a statesman and a constitutional adviser of the President? Even a man of his sagacity may err in a calculation, but a man of his intellectual might and acuteness cannot plead error in his argument. If 40,000 majority against Mr. FENTON, the test man, whom Mr. SEWARD wanted the Republicans to nominate, would have been a condemnation of Republican principles, his triumphant election must be a condemnation of the antagonistic principles of Mr. SEWARD and the President. Honesty as a statesman and chief adviser of the President, suggests that he should meet the condition implied in his own argument, and tell the President and the country plainly that he has been mistaken, and, as a consequence, should abandon the policy that has caused already so much disorder and discredit to the country. If Mr. SEWARD shall do this, or something equivalent to it, although we shall avail ourselves of his permission not to call him a prophet, we shall have much greater pleasure in reckoning him a wise statesman and an honest man.

THE TELEGRAPH AND THE PRESS.

The differences which have arisen between Mr. CRAIG and the Board of Directors of the Associated Press, will more than likely lead to changes and improvements from which the principal journals of the country will all eventually profit. Mr. CRAIG has long acted as the agent of the Association, and no one should be more thoroughly acquainted with the workings of the telegraphic system and the wants of the newspapers. His relations with the leading dailies in New York have not, for some time past, been of a cordial nature; so, knowing that a rupture must sooner or later take place, he has used the resources at his command and his advantages of position in maturing a plan, through which he will absolve himself from New York dictation, and be enabled to do better justice to the many enterprising and influential papers published in other cities than the metropolis. Mr. CRAIG promises that the arrangements that will be carried out under his superintendance shall fully meet the requirements of the papers with which he has any connection; that the rate of charges shall be lowered, the character of the reports enhanced, and greater promptitude and punctuality observed in their delivery at the various offices.

There is no doubt that serious imperfections exist in the present manner of transacting this telegraphic business. Private parties very frequently have occasion to complain of errors caused through the carelessness or incompetence of operators; but no idea can be formed by the uninitiated of the trouble, delay and consequent annoyance and irritation caused in newspaper offices by an aggravated form of similar evils. Often do we get dispatches from which it is almost impossible to decipher a paragraph of sense. There will be a clue, cropping out here and there, by means of which a person, accustomed to electric eccentricities and thoroughly posted on all current subjects of interest, may chance to arrive at the meaning intended; but the loss of time and confusion of mind thus occasioned are serious hindrances to the rapid execution of work necessary, late at night, to get a paper out in season to supply its demands of circulation. The principal reason for these deficiencies may be traced, we think, to the fact that telegraphing is looked upon too exclusively as a mechanical accomplishment, while the equal need of brains is too generally ignored. The most important messages are frequently communicated by and to mere youths, whose only accomplishment is a capacity—little better than automatic—for transmitting and receiving the dots and dashes of which the language of the wires is made up. If a mistake be made in Washington or New York, it is accepted at any point to which it is sent, because, in nine cases out of ten, there is no one who knows enough to correct or even suspect it.

We point out these imperfections in no spirit of fault finding. We recognize and fully appreciate the benefits that certainly accrue to press and public from the conscientious fulfilment of a very arduous duty by those employed in Telegraph offices; but we do not think that many so employed are educated up to the standard which the responsibilities of the positions they occupy demand, and we can see but one remedy that we believe would be effectual. There should be some more comprehensive and practical system of instruction for young men who intend to make telegraphy their vocation. Among other things, they should be thoroughly informed as to the names of persons, places and things which are not matter of common use and quotation. They should be sufficiently well grounded in grammar for a nonsensical or muddled sentence to jar, as they transcribe it, on their sense of accuracy, and induce them to see it rectified immediately. They should have some acquaintance with geography, so as to avoid locating Turkish victories over the Greeks in "Canada" instead of "Candia." Above all, they should be expected to keep the run of the daily news, so as to acquire that superficial kind of encyclopedic knowledge, which, in their dealings with matters intended for the press, must be considered indispensible. Until these conditions are complied with, the operator will be little better than a machine.

Then—and this is a point for Mr. CRAIG's particular attention—the reporters who collect intelligence for his Association should be of a very different class from many who have been heretofore engaged upon such work. In addition to the slight accomplishments we have suggested as judicious for the operator to cultivate, the reporter should possess judgment, discretion, and some little literary taste and ability. He should be able to write smoothly and correctly, and with some appearance of vigor and graphic force, when the topic is one of sensational interest. Moreover, the virtue of condensation should be specially impressed upon his mind. If Mr. CRAIG is able to introduce these valuable reforms into the Bureau it is his intention to establish, he will materially enlarge the sphere of usefulness and importance of the profession to which he has devoted himself, and confer a boon on journalism for which those who benefit by it can never be sufficiently obliged and thankful.

IS THE AMENDMENT A FINALITY?

The Washington Chronicle publishes a letter written by Hon. E. A. POWELL, Montgomery, Alabama, to Colonel FORNEY, and the reply of that gentleman, on the subject of the finality of the Amendment. The gist of Mr. POWELL's letter is contained in the inquiry: "Suppose the "Amendment to be adopted by Alabama, "will anything else be required by Con-"gress from that State?"

Colonel FORNEY's letter contains much beside a direct answer, but he gives it, finally, in the following explicit language: "And now I have to say in reply to your question, that if Alabama and the other Southern States were even at this late day cordially and promptly to consent to the conditions therein contained, in my opinion nothing 'else will be required by the Federal Government in order that the people of the States shall be restored to all their rights under the Constitution.' Such undoubtedly was the determination of the large majority of Congress when that body adjourned on the 28th of July, and such would I believe be the response of the triumphant people of the North and West at the present time."

Colonel FORNEY then proceeds to argue that, in the face of the opposition arrayed against the Amendment, favorable action "on the part of the Southern Legislatures is simply impossible." But, he observes:

"Alabama, in the face of this opposition, can "ratify the constitutional amendment. I assure "you, my dear sir, she will be honored by all "good men, and will greatly strengthen the "hands of those in this section who are anxious "to stand forth as the friends of the Southern "people."

He then enlarges upon the future as follows:

Need I say to you how utterly impossible it is for the men who have the American Government in charge to submit to continued agitation on this subject? There is no delusion more fatal than that which justifies continued obstinacy and virulence in the South by the assumption that this amendment cannot be completed without the votes of the recently seceded and still insubordinate States. Are you aware that Abraham Lincoln and Andrew Johnson were elected by twenty-two out of twenty-five adhering Commonwealths, and that all the acts of Congress, including the contributions to men and money, and our vast and unparalleled system of finance, were considered, passed, and perfected by Representatives elected in the same manner? What else is needed but the application of this theory to the ratification of this amendment, without the votes of the recently rebellious States, who continue to strengthen the bonds of a reckless President, and to contribute daily material to our public discontent, forgetting all the while the fixed truth that when they failed in rebellion they forfeited all their rights, and would have been utterly disfranchised but for the belief that they would accept and obey the terms of the conquerors, when these terms were, as they have been, so moderate, magnanimous, and just beyond all precedent? Please bear in mind that this case has been repeatedly decided against you—once on the battle-field, and several times at the ballot-box. I trust that you are not misled by that other and more fatal sophism—that the men who defeated you in these tremendous and decisive contests represented a minority of the American people, and that you and your sympathizers in the free States are to-day the majority! To insist upon such logic is simply to intensify resentment, and to necessitate remedies which all experience must have shown you can be carried into effect by those who have won the right to shape and govern the destinies of the Republic they have saved. There are no longer any slaves in the United States. We are all free men—all citizens—and he is a dangerous leader who seeks to deceive you by telling you that the men who failed in the rebellion shall rule those who defeated them, and that the majority of the American people is made up by counting out four millions of human beings who have always been true, and by counting in six millions who have recently been, to say the least of it, untrue and unfaithful to their most sacred obligations.

Col. FORNEY informs his correspondent that ten great States of the twelve that voted on the 6th instant, "have reaffirmed with a solemn emphasis, and by immensely increased majorities, their attachment to the great principles which had so often prevailed over the rebellion in the battle-field and at the ballot-box." And concludes with this interrogatory: "Is there any Southern man, whatever his prejudices may be, who will continue to follow the calamitous counsels of ANDREW JOHNSON, and to oppose those irresistible masses now proved to be more than ever masters of the situation?"

IRELAND AND THE FENIANS.

While, in this country, a large number of persons are talking about the emancipation of Ireland, forming societies in furtherance of the object, and paying weekly contributions, amounting in the aggregate to a large sum, to promote it, the Irish people, on the other side of the water, appear only desirous of getting away from Ireland. It would seem to indicate either that they do not know much about the proposed Irish Republic or that they have not much faith in it or hope of its success. The following extract from an Irish paper, presents a view of emigration which, although not new to us, is yet far from being favorable to any such change of Government in Ireland as the Fenian leaders assure their trustful followers of:

The wholesale desertion of Ireland by its people is saddening to any Irishman who takes a thought of an ancient land and of a race, who, when St. Patrick brought them Christianity over the sea, "looked upon it, and loved it." The shamrock of the Apostle waves above the ruins of the Druid's oak—the faith which it typifies has been kept unshrinking constancy, through centuries of violence and guile—but the living possessors of that priceless inheritance are leaving their native shores in swarms, to spread or lose that faith, according to the lot of each, in foreign lands. The great Irish event which cannot be ignored, is the Irish emigration. However people may differ in their thoughts about it, think of it they must. You cannot pass it over. All Irishmen, worthy of the name, look upon it with great regret—enlightened Englishmen, taking Imperial views of the matter, do not like it much. The present Chancellor of the Exchequer, Mr. Disraeli, gave it careful prominence in a recent speech of his. He considered it a thing to be deplored, and stopped by legislation in some way, if possible. There are, no doubt, some who view this national catastrophe with pleasure—some who would gladly see the Irish small tenant replaced by beasts for the market—others by strangers from England or Scotland. But the most narrow minded, and, we hope, the smallest class of them, is composed of persons who rejoice at Irish emigration, as affording the chance of turning Ireland into a Protestant country by putting Protestants into the deserted homes of Catholics—and converting the farm when they cannot convert the man.

This voluntary expatriation may prove that Ireland is badly governed, and that a Republic of the right sort might be an advantage to it, but it also indicates that there is no real expectation of it among the people there. The concern of the English Government in relation to the loss of population in Ireland, further shows that that Government does not consider the Irish as enemies to its authority, or any way formidable to its power. If it did, it would, of course, rejoice to see them going in such vast numbers to the west side of the Atlantic.

If Ireland, therefore, is the destined field of operations, the Fenians had better not long delay their movements, or there will not be friends enough left in the Green Isle to make success possible. So far as yet appears, the organization gets more money and more members, and aspires more to influence and power in this country than in Ireland. Whether its ultimate designs have more reference to that country than to this, is not so manifest, as yet. But it is quite evident, from the late canvass that this organization has "hung upon the verge" of our politics, as an element by itself, and has felt or imagined a power within itself to warrant its frowning at our Government when its measures were unacceptable, and even its assuming the tone and phrase of menace. But this we refer to only by the way. If they are going to have Republic in Ireland with any of their people in it, it behooves Mr. STEPHENS to hurry up the business. How many times Head Center STEPHENS's "hour for Ireland" has come, we cannot remember—not less, we think, than Father MILLER's last day of the world. But the Irish people seem to prefer going to the mountain rather than wait for the Fenians to bring the mountain to them. So they come in thousands and tens of thousands to the ready-made American Republic, rather than look for one of talk in their own country.

SPECIAL CONGRESSIONAL ELECTION IN GEORGIA.

We have already announced that a special election is pending in the Atlanta District, Georgia, and that Dr. JAMES HAMBLETON, the fire-eating Radical rebel, had announced himself as a candidate. Another candidate, Mr. JAS. M. CALHOUN, has entered the field. He was opposed to secession, and was a Union man until the State Rights doctrine carried him into the rebellion. In principle he is opposed to the Amendment, but thinks that, under some circumstances, it might do. He has been pardoned by JOHNSON, and seems to be a much better man than HAMBLETON.

A GLEAM OF SENSE.—There are journals in some of the Southern States that occasionally have lucid intervals, and we are inclined to think the ablest of them are published in New Orleans. The Commercial there, for instance, is doing its best to stop political agitation, and tells its readers, the South has enough to think about and do, for years to come, in rebuilding, on the new basis, its social fabric, which the war has so completely shattered. While indorsing the idea that "the prosperity and development of power in the country were the results of sixty years of Southern statesmanship," it makes this confession: "But we have made indifferent local statesmen, and, as politics was the medium of our ruin, let us try and get along without it." It further recommends those who followed LEE and JOHNSTON in war to profit by their example in peace. "Keeping our eyes on these two leaders," it says, "and shutting our ears to the noisy demagogues who offend us with their incoherent and inflammatory words, we shall soon have a generation which will win back to the South a fortune greater than that which she has lost."

GOVERNOR BROWNLOW'S MESSAGE.

The Legislature of Tennessee convened on Monday, the 5th inst., and the message of Governor BROWNLOW was sent in and read the next day. It is a clear, dignified and moderately long document, setting forth the condition of the State, with sufficient detail to give even the distant reader an understanding of the state of the country and the tone of mind prevailing among the people. The harvests have been abundant, and the great body of the people have quietly pursued their several callings. The chief troubles and difficulties are ascribed to evil disposed and turbulent politicians who have sought to disturb the repose of the people, and have disgraced a few localities by riots and their attendant crimes.

Among the suggestions and recommendations made to the Legislature, the Governor notices the franchise law, which he deems to require some amendment. In this connection is introduced the subject of impartial franchise, or in plain terms the subject of negro suffrage, where, we think, the Governor takes about the same ground that the President did, when he said that "in Tennessee he would endeavor to introduce negro suffrage," and would begin with admitting three classes of negroes to vote—"those who had served in the army; those who could read and write, and those having a property qualification of $200 or $250." The Governor states that under the Constitutional Amendment, the representation of the State in the General Government would be six members, and with negro suffrage it would be nine, or an increase of fifty per centum. At present the right of suffrage is restricted to loyal white citizens.

Tennessee, as is clearly seen from this message, may be taken as a fair type of the States lately in rebellion. The same ideas and prejudices are current. The same mixture of loyal and seditious people makes up its population. All the difference is, that it is somewhat in advance of the rest, by first getting on the right road for restoration. The rebels in the reconstructed State of Tennessee are no more contented or peaceable than they are in the other States where relations to the Union remain suspended. Their antipathy to the United States Government is in no degree abated, and their efforts to revolutionize the State Government, are the subject of decided treatment in Governor BROWNLOW's message. As in Missouri and Maryland, so in Tennessee, the State owes its continued troubles and disorders to their machinations.

The extension of suffrage, with proper qualifications, to all loyal citizens, without regard to color, Governor BROWNLOW seems to regard, not only as in accord with the prevailing sentiment of the loyal people, but also as the only means of securing the Southern States from the anarchy and misrule that unprincipled rebels would introduce into them.

THE FORTIETH CONGRESS.

The Republicans and Democrats will virtually maintain the same relative positions in the next Congress that they did in the last, though whatever gains the late elections have afforded accrue to the former. During the fall there have been Representatives chosen in nineteen States, of whom one hundred and twenty-five are Radical Union men and thirty-seven Johnsonians and Democrats. This is the latest manifestation of public sentiment and feeling. Of those previously elected we have to reckon fifteen as Union men and seven as Democrats, giving the former a total strength of one hundred and forty, or a clear majority of nearly one hundred. In the Senate there is a Radical gain; from New Jersey there come the Hon. H. G. CATTELL, and the successor to be appointed in place of the late Hon. WM. WRIGHT; from Oregon, Hon. H. W. CORBETT; and from Pennsylvania, whomsoever the Legislature shall select to occupy the seat so unworthily filled at present by EDGAR COWAN. Hon. CORNELIUS COLE, too, will arrive from California, to more reputably represent that State than has been done for some years past by Hon. JAMES H. MCDOUGALL. Further, an additional gain of two may be relied on, should Colorado be admitted. In striking a balance, however, we must deduct one for the loss of Mr. CRESSWELL, of Maryland, in whose stead Governor SWANN will very likely find his way to Washington. The upshot of the calculation is a gain of four, certain, with a possibility of its being made six during the first session of Congress. This will cause the Senate to stand forty-two—with the Colorado chance of bringing it up to forty-four—against twenty two. There will be more than a three-fourths vote on joint ballot; the same, in fact, as that which passed the Civil Rights Bill over Andrew Johnson's head, and drove him to seek relief and consolation in the interesting pastime of swinging round the circle.

MEXICAN MUDDLE.—As might have been predicted, the news from Paris now is, that "MAXIMILIAN will remain in Mexico." We attach but little importance to this—note it only to let the reader know how the swinging round the circle, in reference to this question, goes on. The Paris report seems to be confirmed from Mexico. The New York Commercial states positively on information of an "eye-witness, just arrived by the steamer Manhattan," that the abdication rumor is entirely unfounded.

GOVERNOR SWANN made an after-election speech in Baltimore, when he took special occasion to say that all the military preparations made with reference to the local difficulties "were made by ANDREW JOHNSON," and nobody else. GEN. GRANT, he said, was there "merely as a citizen disrobed of office, hoping to bring about a settlement." We hardly think the General was there entirely "disrobed of office," though it is not to be doubted that he did his best to prevent a collision.

THOUGH the returns are not complete, the Missouri Congressional delegation will probably stand as it did before. Seven Republicans—two Democrats. There is a chance of one more Republican. Considering everything, this is the greatest victory of all.

INSATIATE APPETITE.—A Washington dispatch avers that a Pittsburgh delegation are in Washington to advance the claims of a favorite for the post of Revenue Commissioner, now filled by Mr. ROLLINS.

Imports and Exports.

The import entries, at New York, for the past week amount to $3,947,056, against the total entries of $5,675,188 same week last year. The export clearances of domestic produce amount to $3,033,064 against $6,606,467 same week last year. The export of specie amounts to $947,944, against $92,700 same week last year. The customs for the week are $2,415,000. The receipts of cotton, coastwise and by railroad, are 16,519 bales. The number of emigrant passengers arrived during the week, 5,390.

THE VICTORY INTERPRETED.—On the night of the election the Boston Republicans had a jollification in Faneuil Hall, when several speeches were made. General Banks spoke briefly, and tersely interpreted the election as follows: "The election of to-day, he said, is one of the most important in the history of the country. It measures the purposes of the American people by their opinions as for four years they were measured in the field by bullets. The result in both instances—death to traitors to his country—is the same, only one has been accomplished by bullets and the other by ballots."

THE ROMAN CATHOLIC CHURCH IN THE WEST.—Bishop Vail, of Kansas, in an address, delivered in New York a few evenings since, said the Romish Church was making strong efforts to obtain a hold on the minds of the people, and Protestants should endeavor to keep their hold on the people. In nearly every town of importance in Kansas there is a Roman Catholic chapel, and in one city there was a church built at a cost of $250,000. The Roman Catholic Bishop of Kansas received from St. Louis, every year, $25,000 to be expended for the cause of Catholicism.

MERRY IN ADVERSITY.—The Washington Republican, the President's light organ, is thus merry under the adverse election results: "Up to the hour of going to press (4 A. M.) the election returns were quite small. Those of the National Union party had not even begun to come in. Owing to their meagreness and out of charity we postpone all comments until to-morrow. Perhaps something in favor of our party may turn up before daylight. Never too late to be hopeful. In the meantime we are feeding our bantam rooster on 'hard tack' and nursing the October leader."

IMMIGRATION.—At the single port of New York the arrivals thus far count up 200,000, with a promise of reaching, 250,000 before January. This quarter of a million is, moreover, increased by considerable arrivals at Boston and Philadelphia, and by some at Baltimore, Richmond, Charleston, New Orleans and Texas, to say nothing of what comes across the line from Canada. Important as this is in itself, it is made more important from the fact that it is only an indication of what we have reason to believe it will be in the year following.

GENERAL INTELLIGENCE.

No less than seventy songs of victory, hymns, and cantatas have been composed for the entry of the Prussian troops into Berlin. If they were played one after another, says a musical authority, they would have lasted eleven hours and forty-five minutes, but, doubtless, they were all played together, which, if it did not heighten the effect, hid the defects.

A forthcoming exhibition of wet-nurses is announced in the Paris papers. The points to be considered will be the amount and quality of the milk, the age and temperament of the nurses, the kinds of food used by them, etc. Experiments will be made to demonstrate to what degree malt liquors or spirituous liquors, partaken by the nurse, impregnate the milk; also, whether a passionate and fretful temper of the nurse is conveyed to the nursing child. The exhibition promises to be a very curious affair.

The Paris ladies have found out a way of dying dresses without ripping them to pieces, And for a few francs, the dear creatures appear in any tint desired, looking as fresh as if just from the hands of the modiste.

A woman in Detroit, married seven years, recently gave birth to four children at a time. She has attained her present proficiency by arithmetical progression, producing one, two, three and four in regular gradation.

The laborers employed in boring the artesian well at the Union Stock Yards, south of Chicago, at a depth of 1,050 feet, the other day struck a vein of pure water, which is now flowing at the rate of 60,000 gallons every twenty-four hours. The amount required for the use of the Yards is 114,000 gallons per day.

PERSONAL.

—Mr. Samuel Bowles, of the Springfield Republican, is publishing in that excellent paper a series of articles on Pennsylvania and its Mineral Resources, made up from copious notes taken while on a recent excursion through our State with Mr. Wells, the Revenue Commission, and other gentlemen of position and influence. Judging from what he has published, if Mr. Bowles's chapters, when completed, do not make an extremely readable and really valuable book, it will not be because he does not thoroughly appreciate his theme or handle it most charmingly.

—Professor Agassiz is giving a course of twelve lectures, in Boston, to sketch the results of his late Brazilian tour. Speaking of the fourth lecture—and of the learned lecturer, a Boston letter writer says: "He strayed off upon his glacial theory, till he found himself floating upon an ice-raft up the Connecticut river, in pre-Adamite times. It is refreshing to see how the professor believes in his glaciers; he dandles and praises them as a mother will dandle and praise her only child. He says pityingly, that some persons conceive the only office of glaciers has been to deposit boulders upon the land. He does not understand the dullness of such as fail to discern that the world was battered into shape and rendered habitable by glaciers. His first chapter of Genesis reads: "In the beginning, God created—a glacier; and glaciers divided the waters which were under the firmament from the waters which were above; and glaciers caused the waters which were under the heavens to be gathered together unto one place, and made the dry land appear,—and it was so—on and on, till Adam and Eve and the serpent floated into Eden on a glacier, and thus a glacier brought sin into the world, and all our woe."

—Of several eminent Frenchmen, a correspondent, who has visited the Chamber of Deputies, writes as follows: Thiers bears his threescore and ten lightly, notwithstanding his checkered and laborious life, full of accident, vicissitudes and turmoil. He is as smiling, as placid, as nonchalant, as any old German proprietor you might choose, who had lived a life of indolent and wine-bibbing ease in his Schloss among the forests. His great, square expressive face, marked with many wrinkles, yet evidently well fed, his bright, steady eyes beaming through his spectacles, his hair, by no means wholly gray, the graceful ease with which he sits or rises to address the Chamber, the prompt energy and vim which bursts from him when the moment comes for an effective blow—these are the salient features of Thiers's appearance as one sees him from the gallery. Jules Favre is more brilliant, more constantly on the alert, is more frequent and more bitter in declamation, and in all things gives evidence of a restless and ever wakeful spirit. He has a fine face, swarthy, longer, and thinner than that of Thiers, with a black eye, gray hair, and beard almost white. He is feared more by the Imperialists, than any of his colleagues on the opposition bench, and is, indeed, their recognized leader. Odillon Barrot is a sober, thoughtful looking man, with gray moustache, and sits with his head inclined downward—as if he still mourned the unfortunate and unwilling share he had in the revolution of 1848. Emile de Girardin is, on the contrary, sprightly, somewhat foppish in his dress, and has that look for which the American vulgarism "smart" is best adapted. He wears eye glasses, moves promptly, and evidently shares that nervousness of temperament which is so marked in his friend Favre. It is, on the whole, a remarkable group, and they seem knit together in purpose as one man. Orleanists—as Thiers—and Republicans—as Favre—stand side by side as an opposition—ostensibly dynastic—to the present regime.

—General Butler runs a few hundred votes behind Governor Bullock in the Essex district, but, says the Boston Traveller, the opposition to him shows a very small result for the energy of denunciation which greeted and followed his taking the field as a candidate for Congress.

—The Boston Transcript pronounces "the pretended extract from a private letter of Senator Sumner in relation to his marriage, now going the rounds of the newspapers, a coarse and stupid forgery."

—Col. Eaton, of Pittsburgh, has been mustered out of the Pay Department under the following circumstances: He made some Radical speeches in the canvass, which came to the knowledge of Mr. Johnson, whereupon the latter wrote, with his own hand, a letter asking the Paymaster General if he could not dispense with his services, and directed him to muster him out.

—Madame Anna Bishop is now in Hong Kong, China. At Manilla, on the eighteenth of August, she gave her fourth grand concert. The four entertainments netted her twenty-five hundred dollars in gold. Madame Bishop proceeds to Singapore, Bombay, Calcutta, en route for Egypt—thence to England and New York.

—In one of his European letters George Alfred Townsend thus describes Rossini the composer: "His face is large, puffy, heavy, but full of good liver's wrinkles that look like dimples. He wears a black wig that reduces his age twenty years. This man, having thrilled civilization with his numbers, suddenly ceased to sing, and for a man's lifetime he has written no music. There are rumors current that he has vast stores of compositions, with which he is to burst upon the world again; but, whether from an inert nature, adequate success, or fear to hazard present fame, Rossini continues to be a shadow rather than a man—a dumb eloquence, a golden bowl broken. His house at Passy, in the environs of Paris, is beautiful. He is happy, as it seems, and much beloved."

HEAR WHAT THE REV. ISAAC AIKEN SAYS IN RELATION TO THE Greatest Dyspepsia Medicine OF THE AGE.

"COE'S DYSPEPSIA CURE."

[From the Presbyterian Banner.]

JOSEPH FLEMING, Druggist, No. 84 Market street, Pittsburgh:—I take great pleasure in stating that, after having suffered from Dyspepsia for about fifteen years, at some periods much more than others, I have been entirely cured by the use of COE'S DYSPEPSIA CURE. My friends know that of late years my case was an extreme one. I had great suffering from eating any kind of food, and on an average would vomit about one-third of my meals, in a sour, undigested mass. When the severe attacks would come, I would lose all strength, and be utterly helpless. Some of these attacks would be so severe, that for days together I could not retain anything on my stomach save a little dry toast and tea. For years I knew not what it was to pass five consecutive hours without intense pain. From the time I took the first dose of this medicine, I ceased vomiting, gradually all soreness passed away, and flesh and strength returned; and ever since I have been able to eat any kind of food set upon the table.

Six months have now passed without symptoms of the return of the disease. The case was considered by all, even physicians, so marvellous, that for a time it was feared it might be fictitious; but I am now so well convinced that I have been not merely relieved, but permanently cured, that I can conscientiously recommend Coe's Dyspepsia Cure to all the victims of Dyspepsia.

Wetherill & Sloan's Patent. LIGHT EQUAL TO GAS. PATENT GAS CONDENSING BURNERS Can be used on any Lamp and Dispense entirely with Chimneys. The flame produced by these Burners, spreads out similar to that of Gas. The construction is such that the smoke is confined in a Gas condensing chamber, and is wholly converted into flame. The burner does not depend directly upon the wick for its light, but burns the smoke which is produced therefrom, and BURNS LESS OIL THAN CHIMNEY LAMPS, and produces a more brilliant light than any other burner in the market. STATE AND COUNTY RIGHTS FOR SALE. Having purchased the right of disposing of the above Burners in Allegheny county, parties wishing to examine or purchase can be accommodated by calling at my office, 134 WATER STREET, above Smithfield, Pittsburgh. The Death of Man the Result of a Positive Constitution of Heaven—A Sermon Preached in Grace Church, Mt. Washington, on Occasion of the Decease of Mrs. P. A. McMillan, by David C. Page, D. D.—Published by Request.

It is appointed unto men once to die.—Epistle to the Hebrews 9c, 27v.

Death, my brethren, is not the mere payment of a debt we owe to nature. It is not an absolute physical necessity. It is not an occurrence which would have inevitably taken place under any conceivable contingency in the moral condition of man. On the contrary, since man's melancholy fall, the race has become subject to death, and to all the evils which precede and accompany it, by virtue of a positive constitution of heaven. It is appointed unto men once to die, and, accordingly, the leaves of Autumn do not more certainly decay than do the successive generations of men descend into the tomb. Where is the man to be found who has conversed with one generation after another, witnessed the transactions of whole centuries, and who now walks through the ranks of the living in all the glow and buoyancy of his earliest prime? It may be that in the progress of science, man may discover the art of prolonging the term, and of increasing the comfort of his existence, but it is the fiat of the Almighty Potentate, that die he must, and the alternative of his averting death, is forbidden by the peremptory, the irrevocable sentence of, "Dust thou art, and unto dust shalt thou return." This awful reality, my brethren, is thus brought home to the business and bosoms of us all. The period will soon or late inevitably come, when you and I shall go down to the grave, and when as the cloud is consumed and vanisheth away, so we shall return no more to our earthly houses, neither shall our place know us any more. My imagination carries me forward to the hour of your departure and mine. I see each living person now before me stretched upon his dying couch. The lip quivers with agony; the eye fast loses its lustre; the whole expression changes; the respiration becomes more difficult; the pulse almost ceases to beat; we are dying—we are dead. A concourse of friends assemble to attend our remains to the grave; the survivors take a last look; the funeral train moves to the churchyard; the coffin is lowered into the earth; ashes are given to ashes, dust to dust, and leaving us sorrowfully to our sepulchral sleep, the attendants return to their respective dwelling places.

And the hour of our departure is just as uncertain as the fact is inevitable. It is wrapped in the veil of an impenetrable futurity. God only knows when it will surprise us; whether in the morning, the midday, or the decline of life; in the bustle of business, or the whirl of amusement; in the excitement of our waking moments, or the subdued and tranquil season of sleep. The last message may even now be on the wing and before another day of the Lord shall have dawned upon the world, some of you, my beloved, may be sleeping in death, and my voice be hushed in the unbroken silence of the grave. The law of mortality, moreover, is a universal law. Youth, beauty, genius, wealth, position, none of the distinctions, none of the advantages of life, form any security against the assault of death. Youth is not exempted from its appalling stroke. There is a confiding simplicity, a careless vivacity, in the early day of life, which captivates all hearts, and which we do not look for at a more advanced period. The intelligent mark the growing faculties of the young, with delighted eagerness; the pious watch their rising devotion with tremulous solicitude. Their virtues are dwelt upon with enthusiastic admiration, their foibles regarded with commiseration and indulgence. The strong love to take them under their protection; the weak to lean upon them for support; the aged to receive their homage, the learned to afford them their patronage, and the devout to animate them by their counsels. And yet how often comes the destroyer in the midst of all its freshness and loveliness, and gaiety, and when its bosom beats high with hope, and it fondly dreams that no peril is near, hurries it away to the dark land of silence and oblivion. But death regards not beauty's softest, noblest attractions. He loves to quench the splendor of the most beautiful eye, to deprive the sweetest lip of its ruby, and to change the bloom and freshness of the carnation into the livid hue of decay. Where is the envied beauty who, a century ago, figured in the festive circles of fashion and of gaiety? Ah! she has disappeared forever, no more to grace the drawing-room or the assembly; she sleeps in some quiet corner of yonder cemetery, together with the crowd that once followed in her wake, and emblazoned her fame.

There is a magic about genius; who is not compelled to bow before the majesty of commanding intellect? Who can withhold the tribute of his applause from that might of mind, which can cull from every department of nature and society treasures of thought and of imagery; which can anatomize the human heart, trace the various passions and affections of which it is composed, and present to the view of man a perfect portraiture of himself; which can deduce lessons of wisdom and philosophy from the history of the past, and dart forward with prophetic glance into the future; which can fascinate a multitude by the eloquence of its appeals, or sway them by the power of its reasonings, and which by its wondrous fidelity to nature and to truth can make "the whole world kin?"

But death respects not the loftiest genius. The philosopher, and the poet, and the eloquent orator become alike the victims of his power. No elevation of intellect can awe him into subjection; no brilliancy of talent lure him from his purpose. No discharge in that war. The rich and the poor, the honorable and the ignoble, the conqueror and the conquered, the wise and the simple, the thoughtless and the sedate, the man of refinement and the unpolished peasant—all, all must bow before his scepter—all, all be subjected to his unrelenting power.

And, in view of these considerations, the question naturally suggests itself: What are the consequences which follow our departure from the world? Death dissolves our relations with the warm and living world. It separates us from all our most cherished connexions; defeats the best laid schemes of commercial enterprise or political ambition; suspends the business, and terminates the enjoyments of life, and with regard to all earthly things causes us to be as though we had never been. The sun shall shine, but he will shine upon our sepulchres; the moon shall walk in brightness, but her beams shall be reflected from our tombs; the birds shall warble their sweet melody, and the prospects of nature rise in all their magnificence and beauty, but our eyes shall be closed, and our ears shut upon them forever.

But these are not the only, the final consequences of death. Death is not the extinction of our being, but the precursor of a state in which we are to receive an allotment of condition, in conformity to our conduct and character in "the life that now is." Among all nations has the sentiment prevailed that there is a world beyond the grave and this sentence, therefore must be either a relic of original revelation, or a deduction of the universal reason of man.

But Holy Scripture places this momentous doctrine in the clearest and most conclusive light. "It is appointed unto man once to die," it teaches us, and after this, the Judgment. "The hour is coming," says our Savior, "when all that are in their graves shall hear His voice and come forth. They that have done good unto the resurrection of life, and they that have done evil to the resurrection of damnation." And, says Paul the Apostle, "We must all stand before the judgement seat of Christ, that every one may receive the things done in the body, according to that he hath done, whether it be good or bad." What immeasurable importance then attaches to the death of man. Such an event may involve the most important consequences in various ways. It may deprive a large and helpless family of protection and support. It may take from age its last prop, and from affliction its sole solace; nay, cases there have been when the death of an individual has produced a shock throughout the world. And yet in all these regards death is an event of comparative insignificance. It is its connection with the everlasting future, which gives it its true importance and interest. Tell me, all ye that hear me, if it be an unquestionable verity that each of us is to have a trial before the highest tribunal in the universe; that there every thought, and every speech, and every action, shall undergo a strict and impartial scrutiny, and all shall receive the things done in the body, according to that we have done, whether it be good or bad, whether it all this be so I say, it be not a subject of most serious and solemn purport, to you, to me and to all? If death be inevitable, if it involves such inestimable consequences to every living man, then can anything be so consummately foolish as to exclude from our minds everything like earnest and serious thought, and to pass our life away as if death were an interminable and endless sleep.

In view of such considerations, my beloved, can any of you who are living without any preparation for death, justify this posture of your minds? So sure as there is a future state of punishments and rewards, so surely as each of us shall be held responsible to the tribunal of our God, so surely it were impossible to exonerate from the charge of folly the man who is making no efficient preparation for the hour of his departure from this world.

But what constitutes an efficient preparation for death? Of all questions this is the most important and pregnant with interest, and until it be decided we should postpone the consideration of all others. Is it, then, quite sufficient for this great purpose of our being that we float recklessly down the tide of life, intent only of the present, and regardless alike of the past and of the future? So far is this from truth, so far, before we can be qualified for the blissful Heaven, we must be in possession of a specific character, and which we ourselves must form. Now, what is that character, my brethren? Is it completed by what we ordinarily understand by a moral and correct deportment? Is it enough to qualify us for a blissful immortality that we occasionally give alms to the poor, and that we have the reputation of courteous and honorable men? No; for say the oracles of heavenly truth, "some have not the knowledge of God." "I speak this to your shame." A son honoreth his father and a servant his master. If I be a father, where is mine honor, and if I be master, where is my fear, saith the Lord of Hosts. The Lord Jesus shall be revealed from heaven, taking vengeance on them that know not God, and them that obey not the Gospel of our Lord Jesus Christ, who shall be punished with everlasting destruction from the presence of the Lord and the glory of His power, when He shall come to be glorified in His saints, and admired in all them that believe. Where, where is the man to be found who can put his hand upon his heart and solemnly affirm I have never sinned? None, my brethren, there is none righteous. No, not one. Who is there of all the myriads of the race, who, upon submitting the whole of his past life to the test of God's perfect law I will not say, but of whatever rule he may have adopted for the regulation of his conduct, can unhesitatingly say that he has never fallen short in the minutest particular of his own rule? And in view of the inexorable requisitions of God's law, the holy and the immaculate, who is of purer eyes than to behold evil, and who cannot look upon iniquity, what is to become of any of us if we have no other resource than our own imperfect righteousness? Why every mouth must be stopped, and the whole world become guilty before God. Do not flatter yourselves that you have a resource in the abstract mercy of Heaven. All this were a miserable delusion, a false confidence, for the abstract mercy of heaven has no foundation, but in our own fond imaginings, for cursed, it is written, is every one that continueth not in all things written in the book of the law to do them. The Law of God makes no compromise with the infirmity of man. It requires absolute obedience in will and in deed, and by the works of the law no flesh living shall be justified. What then? Must man forever dismiss all hope of forgiveness and of peace? Is he fast bound and hopelessly by the chain of an inexpiable and desperate curse? No, my brethren, God be praised! He has devised a plan of redemption by which it coheres with His perfection, to extend mercy and forgiveness to guilty and miserable man. He so loved the world as to give His only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in Him should not perish, but have everlasting life, and though all have sinned and came short of the glory of God, yet hath He sent forth His Son to be a propitiation through faith in His blood to declare his righteousness for the remission of sins through the forbearance of God, that he might be just, and the justifier of him that believeth in Jesus. Here, then, is a way of escape from the coming wrath. Here a city of refuge he may flee to from the avenger of blood. Christ Jesus the Lord, by rendering a perfect obedience to the requisitions of the law, by enduring in our stead the penalty of its violation, has fully vindicated its insulted majesty, and "magnified and made it honorable," and all those who truly repent them of their faults, and persevere in holiness to their life's end, shall pass through the grave and gates of death to their glorious resurrection, through His merits, who died and was buried and rose again for us, through the same Jesus Christ our Lord. In humble obedience to those express instructions of heavenly wisdom and truth, be exhorted, I pray you, to flee for refuge; to lay hold of the hope set before you in the gospel. Watch, for you know not what hour the Lord may come. Know this, that if the good man of the house had known what hour the thief would come, he would have watched, and would not have suffered his house to be broken through. Therefore, be ye also ready, for in such an hour as ye think not, the Son of Man may come. Seek, then, to settle your accounts with heaven now, while you are in the midst of life—in moments of undisturbed and calm reflection, and when there is nothing in your condition to suggest the fear of a speedy summons into the world of retribution. So teach us to number our days, be this the prayer of you all, my brethren, "So teach us to number our days, that we may apply our hearts unto wisdom. Let our loins be girt about, and our lamps burning, and we ourselves like unto men waiting for their lord, that when he cometh and knocketh, we may open to him immediately." Such was the attitude of our deceased sister, in view of her last period. She had not neglected to prepare for the dread transition which was before her. No! Such was not the posture of her soul as she beheld the approach of the last enemy. Her great account had been adjusted long before. She had made a profession of her faith while "her eye was not yet dim, nor her natural fire abated." Those who knew her can bear a unanimous testimony to the fidelity and sincerity with which she endeavored to fulfil all righteousness; to perform every duty of personal, domestic, social and public piety. Who of you can forget her proverbial hospitality to the pastors of Christ's flock; the kindness of her feelings, and the gentleness of her manners; the absence from her heart of any hatred, malice and all uncharitableness, and her notorious dislike of that officious gossip, and confidential detraction which is everywhere but too prevalent; her active zeal for the prosperity of our Holy Apostolic Church; the devout gladness with which she looked forward to the restoration of the Parish Church, and to the revival of God's blessed work among the people of this congregation, and in a word, of her readiness to contribute her pecuniary means, and her active services to the furtherance of whatever object can redound to the furtherance of God's glory, and man's well-being?

Such was her record; peace to her ashes, and may we, my beloved, follow in her steps.

THE FIRST NATIONAL BANK OF PITTSBURGH, PA., (late Pittsburgh Trust Company.) Capital $500,000, paid in, with privilege to increase to $1,000,000.

The Pittsburgh Trust Company having organized under the Act to provide a National Currency, under the title of the FIRST NATIONAL BANK of PITTSBURGH, would respectfully offer its services for the collection of Notes, Drafts, Bills of Exchange, &c.; receive money on deposit, and buy and sell Exchange on all parts of the country.

The success which has attended the Pittsburgh Trust Company since its organization in 1852, will, we believe, be a sufficient guarantee that business entrusted to the new organization will receive the same prompt attention.

Having a very extensive correspondence with Banks and Bankers throughout the country, we believe we can offer unusual facilities to those who do business with us.

The business will be conducted by the same officers & Directors.

Court Proceedings.

SUPREME COURT OF PENNSYLVANIA.

The following cases were argued in this Court yesterday morning:

Farmers' Railroad Company, appellee, vs. Reno and Oil City Railroad Company, appellants, Venango county. Submitted by Heydrick and Snowden for appellants, and A. B. McCalmont, contra.

Montgomery, appellee, vs. Halderman, et. al., appellants, Venango. Submitted by J. S. McCalmont & Co. for appellants, and by Samuel Plumer for appellee.

Tanner vs. Hughes et. al.; Greene county. Submitted by Downey, Myley and Buchanan for plaintiff in error, and by Black, Phelan and Purman, contra.

Funk, appellant, vs. Haldeman et. al., appellees; Venango county. Argued by Eli K. Price, F. Carroll Brewster, Thomas M. Marshall, R. Biddle Roberts and Hon. W. H. Lowrie for appellants, and C. Heydrick, F. T. Backus and Geo. S. Snowden for appellees.

COURT OF COMMON PLEAS.—Before Judge Stowe.

In the case of Joseph W. Lynch vs. Tomer, Gumbert & Co., a verdict was rendered in favor of defendants.

Philip Kurth vs. Louis Renmer. Action to recover the value of a horse sold to plaintiff by defendant. The jury rendered a verdict for plaintiff in the sum of seventy dollars.

Philadelphia and Pittsburgh Oil Company vs. John Crawford. Action to recover $250, the amount of a subscription made by defendant to the Company. A verdict in favor of plaintiffs for $266 50 was rendered.

Midas Petroleum Company vs. L. R. McAboy, E. S. Wright and Jas. G. Arbuthnot. Leave was granted the sheriff by the Court to amend his return by inserting therein after defendant in the original return the names of L. R. McAboy and E. S. Wright. The case, as amended, was then taken up, when it appearing to the Court that the order to amend the Sheriff's return was made without due consideration and without knowledge of all the facts involving the interest of the second parties, the same was declared vacated and amended.

G. H. Lehman vs. Nicholas Snyder. A nonsuit was taken in this case, after which the jurors were discharged until ten o'clock on Monday morning.

DISTRICT COURT.—Before Judge Williams.

The jury in the case of Goshorn vs. Butterfield, after remaining in the jury room all night, returned a verdict yesterday morning in favor of the plaintiff for six and-a-fourth cents damages. There being no other cases ready for trial, the jurors in attendance were discharged until Monday morning.

Police Items.

BEFORE ALDERMAN TAYLOR.—Wm. Boniface was before Alderman Taylor, of the Fifth ward, charged with larceny on the oath of E. T. Lanier, shipping agent of the Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne and Chicago Railway Company, at the Penn street Freight Station. Mr. Lanier alleged that Boniface stole from the freight depot a jar of preserves. The accused had a hearing, which resulted in his being held to bail for trial at Court. Mrs. Catharine Barry made oath charging Michael Crouse, proprietor of a clothing store on Liberty street, with false pretenses. The prosecutrix states that she purchased from Crouse a boy's coat, for which she paid him the sum of ten dollars. After taking the garment home and examining it, she discovered that instead of being sewed it was glued together by an adhesive mixture, which the heat melted and caused the garment to fall to pieces. The defendant was arrested and held to bail for a hearing. Mrs. Christina Baker charged Mary A. Wiscell, with assault and battery, alleging that the latter attacked her, and beat her with a broom stick, inflicting severe injury. Mary, the defendant in the above case, then entered a cross-suit, against Mrs. Baker, and her husband August Baker, for surety of the peace, alleging that they assaulted her and threatened to whip her. The parties all reside in Hatfield. A hearing will be had in both cases next Monday. Peter Zimmerman, one of the proprietors of the Iron City Park, made an information against Charles Stahl and Jacob Schaltwalter, charging them with trespassing upon the Park, in Liberty township, although forbidden, and damaging the property. They were both arrested, and held for a hearing on Monday.

BEFORE ALDERMAN STRAIN.—An information was made yesterday before this magistrate against Mrs. Graham and Mrs. Johnson, for committing an assault and battery upon Mary Treacy. The parties are employed at the City Poor Farm, on the Monongahela river, and the defendants are charged with having assaulted the affiant, and beat and abuse her. A hearing of the case will be had to-day. Laurence Hoofnagle was accused of malicious mischief, on oath of Michael Kelley. The prosecutor alleges that the defendant drove a horse and wagon into a potato patch on his farm in Robinson township, destroying the property. A warrant was placed in the hands of an officer for the arrest of the accused. The case of John Rahe, charged with assault and battery with intent to kill, on oath of Curtis S. Haven, was called up for a hearing. By consent of the prosecutor the charge was reduced to simple assault and battery, and the defendant was held in three hundred dollars bail for his appearance at Court to answer the charge.

BEFORE ALDERMAN LYNCH.—James Halligan yesterday appeared before Alderman Ed. Lynch, of the Third ward, and lodged two informations against Sarah Owen for surety of the peace, alleging that she threatened to hit him with a brickbat and knock his wife down. The parties are residents of the Eighth ward. A warrant was issued for her arrest.

BEFORE ALDERMAN JOHNS.—Jennie Taylor was arrested and taken before Alderman W. O. Johns, of the Seventh ward, charged with the larceny of a cape, coat and other articles from the house of Catharine Robinson. Jennie, in default of the required bail, was committed to jail for trial. Emma Grey was charged with using profane language towards Mary Rook. The case was dismissed upon the defendant paying the costs.

A REMARKABLE cure by the Indian Herb Doctor, at 194 Liberty street: This is to certify that having intensely suffered for some time from dyspepsia, loss of appetite, nervousness and general debility, congestion, exhaustion, pain in the breast, &c. FINANCE AND TRADE.

FRIDAY, November 9, 1866.

There is some closeness in the local money market which is felt by borrowers; but there is no difficulty in disposing of good paper at moderately low rates. No change is noticed since our last report in the price of stocks. They are mostly held at full figures. A lot of Connellsville Railroad stock was sold to-day at 10, which is the only transaction in this stock we have noticed for a long while. There is very little inquiry for Allegheny Valley Railroad. Purchasers are expecting much lower prices than what exist at the present time.

—The dividend of the Keystone Savings Bank was $1 75 per share instead of $1 50, as erroneously stated.

—The New York quotations received to-day at Bryan's Stock Rooms show an almost entire recovery from the sudden drop noticed in Wednesday's paper, and there is a strong tendency upward of the principal stocks on the list. Those that purchased at Tuesday's and Wednesday's prices made a good operation, but the transactions at the Board then were quite limited. We append our usual list of prices at the forenoon Board:

Gold	146⅝
U. S. Bonds, 1881	114⅜
" 5-20's 1862	110⅝
" " 1865	107⅝
" " new issues, 1865	107½
" 1st series 7-30's	105¾
" 2d and 3d series 7-30's	105⅜
Michigan Southern	91¾
Cleveland and Pittsburgh	92¾
Pittsburgh, Ft. Wayne and Chicago	105¾
Erie	81½
W. U. Telegraph Co.	51½
Chicago and Rock Island	109½
Chicago and Northwestern	37¾

The mining list stood as follows:

Bennehoff (oil)	$6 10
Gregory (gold)	11 75
Rocky Mountain	1 00
Quartz Hill	5 25
Hope	1 38
Corydon	5 62
Holman	28
Nye	21
Liberty	18

—In the gold market the prevailing belief is that there will be little if any further decline at present, the effect of the Treasury disbursements in payment of the November coupons having been fully felt. Confidence among buyers is sustained by the knowledge that while the market is exposed to a number of contingencies favorable to a rise, there are none likely to exert an opposite effect to any material extent. At the same time no important upward movement is probable, present indications being favorable to stability.

—That speculation on the New York Stock Exchange has thus far in the year confined itself within conservative limits is obvious from the subjoined comparison of the highest prices touched in 1864, with those now current:

	March, 1864.	November 7.	Lower.
New York Central	145	122	23
Erie	126½	83⅜	43
Hudson	164	124	40
Reading	165	116½	48½
Michigan Central	157	116	41
Michigan Southern	118¾	91¾	26¾
Illinois Central	138	125	13
Cleveland and Pittsburgh	132	93¼	38¾
Northwestern	88	58¾	29¾
Northwestern preferred	97	80⅝	16½
Rock Island	145½	110⅝	34⅞
Fort Wayne	153½	110⅝	42⅞

—The New York Tribune of yesterday says: A large part of the morning was consumed in private session by the stock brokers, the subject of discussion being the commission on sale of specie, which is now ⅛ per cent., and which it was proposed to change. The vote was 121 ayes to 102 noes. The affirmative being less than a two-thirds vote, the motion was lost. The penalty for selling gold for any lower rate of commission is suspension for the first offense, and expulsion for the second.

—Mining shares are dull and lower. The feature of business at the Mining Board was a "break" in the speculation on Downieville. Yesterday 17,000 shares were sold at $2 82@2 85. To-day the best bid for 1,000 shares was 25c; although after the Board a sale of 100 shares at $1 25 was reported. Nearly all the gold stocks are inventions to mine gold from the pockets of operators, and the less people have to do with them the better.

—The Register of the Treasury has just issued new regulations concerning United States stocks, which will render easy the correspondence with the Departments on the various subjects growing out of this new world-wide interest. The exchange, the transfers, the conversion of bonds, the payment of interest, the assignment of stocks by heirs, by executors, &c., require that the rules and forms should be extensively understood. The Register says: "Letters relating to redemption of public securities, the conversion of 7-30 Treasury notes, or the exchange of coupon bonds for registered certificates, should be addressed to the Secretary of the Treasury. Letters relating to the transfer of registered stock, or payment of interest on the same, should be addressed to the Register of the Treasury. The transfer books are closed for thirty days previous to the day for payment of dividends, and stockholders desiring the place of payment changed must give notice to the Register, one month, at least, before the day of payment. Powers of attorney for the assignment of United States stock and assignments must be properly filed before transmission to the Register, as no blanks can be filled in this office. Powers of attorney to draw interest should be addressed to the First Auditor of the Treasury."

—The conversion of 7-30 Treasury notes (first series) into "5-20 Bonds" is made in the following manner:

Interest on the 7-30 Notes is credited from August 15, 1866, to date of conversion, at 7 3-10 per cent.; and the interest on the "5-20 Bonds" is charged from July 1, 1866, to date of conversion, at 6 per cent.—difference in interest received in currency.

All Notes must be indorsed, "Pay Secretary of the Treasury for redemption," and indorsed by the depositor. Notes made payable to order must have indorsement verified.

—Over two and a quarter millions of Sixes of 1867 and 1868 have been purchased and destroyed by the Treasury during October. The new issue of Five twenties of 1865 have been increased nearly twenty-six millions by the conversion of seven millions of Compound Interest Notes and nearly twenty millions of Seven-thirties of the first series. The Secretary has also effected a contraction of the "greenback" currency to the extent of nine millions.

PRODUCE AND GENERAL MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH COMMERCIAL, SATURDAY, November 10, 1866.

Business yesterday was not very active, buyers and sellers being somewhat apart in their views. The result was the sales were on a limited scale at current rates. The receipts of produce were not large, but were sufficient for all purposes. Our rivers are falling, with over four feet water in the channel. The following boats are announced for this day: Kate Putnam and Silver Cloud No. 2 for St. Louis; the Quickstep takes her departure this day for Cincinnati, at noon. The new packet Flicker, leaves to-day for New Orleans; she goes through without re-shipping. The Camelia is receiving for Nashville, and will be the first boat to depart for that port. The fleet Gray Eagle is the Parkersburgh boat for noon to-day. The Robert Moore left last evening for Portsmouth with an excellent trip, as usual. This boat is a large favorite with passengers and shippers. The Leni Leoti, for Parkersburg, had a good trip. Trade on the Allegheny remains suspended and will so continue until we have a rise. How long before that event takes place we have no means of finding out. It won't be long from present appearances. Below will be found the sales that came under our notice:

BACON—The market has undergone no change for some days. The demand was fair and sales were regular. We note as follows: Shoulders, 3000 lbs, at 16¼c; ribbed sides, 2,000 lbs, 17¾@18c; sugar-cured hams, 2,000 lbs, 24@24½c.

PITTSBURGH DRY GOODS MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH COMMERCIAL, SATURDAY, November 10, 1866.

There is no special change to report this week. The general jobbing trade has been small, but country buyers are in the very proper habit of buying often, so that while the wholesale trade experience but little of rush and hurry, yet the constant demand results in a fine business when the records of each week and month are made up.

The election being over, and the attention of the people being released from that topic, the usual current of every day affairs will now set in, and all departments of trade and manufacture may reasonably look for customers and trade. We quote:

Shirtings and Sheetings—Anchor Sheeting, 21c; Penn 20c; Park, 20c; Portsmouth, 20c; Light, 4-4, 15 to 16c; Light, 3-4, 11 to 15c.

Prints—Merrimack, D, 21c; Sprague's, 19½c; American, 18½c; Conestoga, 18½c; Gloucester, 18½c; Manchester, 18½c; Wamsutta, 15c.

Delaines—Hamilton, 27½c; Pacific, 27½c; Manchester, 27½c.

WEEKLY REVIEW OF THE PIG IRON AND BLOOM MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH COMMERCIAL, SATURDAY, November 10, 1866.

Under continued light receipts, the market for crude irons continues buoyant. The sales of the week have been somewhat restricted from scarcity of desirable grades of standard forge irons. Prices are substantially unchanged, other than in exceptional cases for immediate delivery. An advance of $1 per ton for fancy brands has been offered.

We quote the following sales:

LEATHER, HIDES AND OIL.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH COMMERCIAL, SATURDAY, November 10, 1866.

The business has been steady, without excitement or speculative tendency. The demand is good and is likely to remain so the balance of the year. Prices for strictly prime Leather have been well maintained, with no surplus in market here or abroad.

Oak Leather—The demand for heavy weights (not bellies) has been in excess of supply, and at prices a to a little higher for light and middle; of the latter the market is abundantly supplied at lower prices.

Finished Stocks—Harness, Upper and Calf in fair supply, at prices a shade firmer than those of last month.

A large discrimination is made in favor of prime tannages and superior finish of all descriptions of Leather.

We quote to-day:

PITTSBURGH OIL TRADE.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH COMMERCIAL, SATURDAY, November 10, 1866.

BUSINESS so far as relates to oil was dull yesterday. Buyers were inclined to hold off. Prices were a shade easier, that is, sales could not be effected unless holders would submit to a decline. The sales were 4,200 barrels in lots, at the following rates: Bulk, 10¼c, 10⅛c, 11@11¼c. The receipts only amount to 1,158 barrels. Most of the refiners have an ample supply on hand, sufficient to last for some time. They are busily engaged in filling contracts previously made. Those that made sales early in the season will no doubt make a good thing out of them; crude being considerably lower than when their obligations were entered into. The crude sales were 1,200 barrels; bulk 10¼c; 550 do 10⅛c; 400 do 10⅛c; 300 barrels, 11½c; 750 do 11c, and 1,000 bbls, packages included, 16c. The market closed with advantages on the side of buyers.

TAR—We note a sale of 100 barrels at $3 25, free on cars. The first one made for some time.

REFINED OIL—The market yesterday came to a stand still, buyers and sellers being apart in their views. We quote nominally on the spot, free on cars, 29a30c; Philadelphia delivery, 34½a35c.

PETROLEUM MARKETS.

THE OIL REGION.

Advices of Thursday, per mail, from the oil producing districts of the Allegheny, report the market quiet, but firm, and few transactions, although there is a fair demand. According to the Titusville Herald of Thursday, there seems to be a general scarcity of oil among producers at present on the Creek, the quantities having been shipped within the last week for the Pittsburgh and Cleveland markets. The Creek and River have fallen to a stage that suspends transportation by these routes.

Producers are generally holding at the following figures: Oil Bull run at from $2 70 to $3 00; on Pioneer Run, 48 gravity, at $2 75 in barrels at the wells, 44 gravity at $3 00 at the wells; on Bennehoff Run for 46 to 47 gravity, $3 00 at the wells; at Petroleum Center and the Hyde and Egbert Farm on the bank, at $3 20a 3 30.

The following sales were made on Wednesday: 200 barrels on Bull Run, 48 gravity, at the wells, at $2 75; 100 barrels 47 to 48 gravity, in barrels at the wells on Pioneer Run, at $2 75; a lot at Petroleum Center, on the bank, at $3 25; two car loads on Pioneer Run, 47 to 48 gravity, at $2 70, and a lot of 100 barrels for refiners use on Bull Run, at $1 55 at the wells.

NEW YORK.

Mail advices, of Thursday afternoon, report the market for crude quiet but steady, with sales of regular gravity, 700 barrels, at 23c for crude, and 37½c for refined in bond. The day previous 3,200 barrels sold at 30c fo. prime light straw to white, and 33½a37c for standard white, chiefly at the inside figure.

HOG MARKETS AND PACKING.

CINCINNATI.

Mail advices of Thursday report Hogs dull and prices declined fully 50c, closing quiet at $7 50 gross for extra heavy, and $7 00a7 25 for medium to good averages. There are good many light inferior hogs coming forward, and sales of such were made at low as $6 50a 6 75. There is less disposition on the part of packers to buy, even at the reduced rates. Receipts for the last 24 hours were 4,100 head.

CHICAGO.

The market, says the Tribune, of Thursday, opened rather quiet. The receipts were large, and buyers thought by holding off to force prices down. In this they were successful, sellers offering freely at a reduction of 25a35c per 100 lbs. A fair shipping demand sprang up at the decline, so that holders were enabled to close out most of their offerings, though there are some thin, rough, uneven lots remaining over unsold. Sales embrace about 5,500 head which were taken by shippers and city packers at prices varying from $5 50 to $7 50 for common to fair grades averaging from 221 to 290 lbs, and $7 75a8 00 for good to choice hogs, averaging from 285 to 335 lbs. The market closes weak at the decline mentioned above.

TORONTO, C. W.

The Globe of the 5th inst. says: The hog market cannot as yet be said to have fully opened, although our packers have already put down a few hundred barrels of pork. It will be several weeks before the market becomes sufficiently settled to afford any near criterion as to the season's prices.

Cincinnati Provision Market.

The Commercial, of Thursday, reports the market still in an unsettled condition, and, with reference to prices, it is impossible to give them with any degree of accuracy. The stock of old Meats, which is already light, is being steadily reduced, but the demand is limited and entirely for consumption. When sales are effected, it is at prices that holders are enabled to obtain by reducing the rates quoted below, and inquiries from buyers at current rates are few. The demand is so limited that it is about as difficult to buy as it would be to sell to any extent. Prices of Mess Pork are nominal here, and it is held at $21 50. Some Bacon shoulders are being made. New Mess is quoted nominal at $27 00 in the spring, but we understand that several offers were declined at $22 00 to be delivered as fast as made. Green Meats sold from the block at $8 for Shoulders, 9c for Sides and 14c for Hams. Bulk Meats are quiet, but held firmly, at 13a13½c for Shoulders, 15c for Sides and 15c for Hams. Sales of clear Rib Sides at 18c. Some sales of clear sides were made at 16c, but they had been priced for some time. Lard closed quiet at 15@15½c for prime new and good kettle rendered city.

Chicago Cattle Market.

November 8.—The market yesterday opened with considerable spirit, and with an improved quality of stock. Sellers were generally holding for a little higher prices, though an outside exchange was established, sales ranging at about the closing rates of last week. There was a better demand for good shipping grades, and most of the really desirable droves were readily closed out at $6 50a6 75 for good to prime steers, averaging from 1,150 to 1,300 lbs and upward. Common and medium grades, however, were much neglected, and sales ranged at $4 00a 4 75 for common cows, tough light heifers and thin rough steers. Good fat butchers' cows and good stock steers were in good demand at $3 40a4 25, the latter averaging from 900 to 1,050 lbs. Packers are not yet buying to any extent, although a drove occasionally finds its way into their hands. The market closed firm.

Cincinnati Tobacco Market.

The demand runs mostly on fine leaf, which is scarce. Low grades are dull.

SALES AT BODMAN'S WAREHOUSE.

21 hhds and 15 bxs, viz: 21 hhds Mason county leaf, lugs and trash—1 at $1 75, 1 at $9 90, 2 at $6 55, 3 at $7 25, 3 at $8 70, 3 at 11 25, 3 at 12 00, 4 at 15 25, 1 at 25 75, 1 at 25 00, 1 at 29 50, 15 bxs Ohio at prices ranging from $1 75 to 5 50.

Cincinnati Whisky Market.

Advices of Thursday, per mail, report the market steady and firm at 34c for bonded, and $2 32a2 34 for free raw, the latter the jobbing rate. 250 bbls bonded sold at 34c; 100 bbls free raw at $2 33, and 129 bbls, in lots, at $2 34.

New York Market.

NEW YORK, November 9.—Cotton heavy at a further decline of 1c; sales at 37c for middling uplands and 38c for do Orleans. Flour dull and 15a20c lower at $8 20a9 50 for sound; common extra state $11 50a12 50 for extra round hoop Ohio, and $12 00a14 25 for trade brands; market closing quiet. Whisky quiet and nominally unchanged. Wheat dull and common grades 2a3c lower; at $2 05a2 15 for inferior Chicago; $2 30 for No. 2 Milwaukee. Rye quiet and drooping. Barley more active and closes firm, at $1 08a1 11 for Canada West, in bond; $1 30a1 35 for do free, the latter for very choice; $1 15a1 23 for two rowed State. Barley malt dull, at $1 45. Corn opened 1c lower and closed 1c better, at $1 21a1 26 for shipping mixed Western, afloat and in store, and $1 25a1 26½ for Western yellow. Oats dull and 1a2c lower, at 65a71c for Chicago and Milwaukee, and 70a72c for State, inside price, low small lots. Coffee dull. Sugar active, at 10 a11¼c for Cuba, and 11⅞a13c for Porto Rico. Molasses dull. Petroleum dull and lower, at 21c for crude, and 35 for refined in bond. Pork heavy and decidedly lower, at $21 87½a27 50, regular, cash for new mess, closing $25 87 regular and $22 75a23 00 for prime; also, 1,250 bbls new mess at $22 50, seller, December and January. Beef heavy and lower. Beef steady at previous prices. Beef hams are heavy at $37a41. Bacon dull. Dressed hogs heavy and lower, at 10½a11c for Western. Cut meats heavy, at 12½a13½c for shoulders, and 15a16½ for hams. Lard heavy and lower, at 13½a15c. Butter steady at 20a33c for Ohio; 35a45c for State, and 50a55c for Orange county, in pails. Cheese dull at 8a17c.

New York Dry Goods Market.

NEW YORK, November 9.—The dry goods market presents some new features this morning. The election being over, more buyers have been in market, and more business has been done, but in a somewhat irregular way. Print men have reduced prices ½c generally, but this was hardly sufficient to meet the difference already existing between the prices and the jobbers and it had little or no effect. The jobbers further reduced their prices yesterday afternoon ½ to ¼c a yard on the stocks already in hand, some parts of which were not very desirable goods, and some forty or fifty cases have since been sold and there is a fair business still doing, but it only extends to these goods. Jobbers' prices: Brown sheetings—Atlantic A, 23c; Pepperell E, 22c; do R, 23c. Bleached Shirtings—Bartlett's, 26c; Tiptop, 33½c; Slatersville, 19c. Prints—Merrimac W, 21c; American, 15½c; Arnold's, 17c; London Mourning, 18½c; Sprague's Shirting, 18½c; do B, 16½c. Denims—York, 35c; Boston Manufacturing Company, 27½c.

Buffalo Market.

BUFFALO, November 6.—Flour easier; No 1 spring, $11 75a12 25; Western spring, $12 50; white Canada, $14 75a15 25. Wheat—40,000 Chicago and Milwaukee No. 2 on private terms. Rye lower. Corn—50,000 bush, $1 13a1 15, closing with buyers at $1 14. Oats quiet, at 62c. Barley—7,600 bush Canada, $1 10; 1,500 bush to arrive on private terms. Rye opens quiet. Pork, $26 00@26 50. Lard 13¾a16c. Whisky nominal. Canal freights to New York—Wheat, 17a 18c; corn, 11a15c; rye, 16c.

Oswego Market.

OSWEGO, November 9.—Flour 25a50c lower on Spring, but steady and unchanged on winter grades; $12 00a12 25 for No. 1; $14 00 for Red Winter; $15 00 for White; $15 75a16 00 for double extra. Wheat quiet and no sales. Corn quiet. Barley unchanged; sales 27,000 bush at 95c for top Lake Ontario; and 78c for Bay Quinte, in bond, at $1 18, free. Rye steady; Canada, $1 26. Canal freights steady—to New York—Flour 60c; wheat and peas 14c; corn and barley 12c; rye 13c. To Albany—Wheat 12c; corn and barley 10c; rye 11c.

Wool Sales in Boston.

BOSTON, November 9.—Horatio Harris & Co. sold at auction to-day 350,000 lbs of wool, damaged at the fire in Franklin street last Saturday. The wool was sold to be weighed in its present condition, and brought the following prices: 27 bags tub washed, 6c, 5 do pulled and dead wool, 21c; 52 do scoured shippings, 21c; 9 do fleece Ohio, 46c; 12 do Michigan, 40c; 6 do Ohio, 47c; 23 do, 46c; 19 fleeces Iowa, part unwashed, 37c; 6 do scoured Mestiza, 55c; 5 fleece Iowa, 46c; 12 do Michigan, 44c; 6 do Iowa unwashed, 26c; 16 do Michigan, 46c.

New Orleans Market.

NEW ORLEANS, November 9.—Cotton lower; sales 850 bales; low middling nominal at 34½a35½c. Receipts of the week, 25,760 bales, against 22,000 last week. Exports, 16,000 bales; stock 137,500 bales. Sugar in good demand at 13¼a13⅛c for fair. Bank sterling 59c. New York Exchange par. Freights to New York, ¾c; to Liverpool 9-16c; to Havre, 1¼c.

St. Louis Market.

ST. LOUIS, November 9.—Cotton drooping, at 33a35c. Flour dull and unchanged. Wheat heavy and unchanged. Corn higher; new 72a75c; old 95ca$1 05. Oats lower, at 48a51c. Pork lower, at $31 75a32 00; stock exhausted. Bacon and lard drooping and nominal. Whisky higher, at $2 23.

Toledo Market.

TOLEDO, November 9.—Flour quiet. Wheat—Winter 1a2c, and spring 2c lower; sales of new white Michigan at $2 95 for amber, $2 79a2 80 for No. 1 spring. Corn opened 4c lower and closed 2c lower, but firm; sales No. 1 mixed at 95a98½c. Oats held at 45a46c. Lake freights—9c for corn to Buffalo.

New York Finance and Trade

Gold Closed at 146½.

NEW YORK, November 9, 1866.

THE MONEY MARKET

Is working easier, and 5 per cent. was the general rate for call loans to-day. The demand is less active, and the supply in excess of the wants of the bankers. The effort to get the rate up to 6a7 per cent. has signally failed. The discount market is dull, and mercantile paper passes slowly. Prime names are done to a moderate extent at 6a7 per cent.

THE GOLD MARKET

Has been generally quiet during the day, and is devoid of any new feature. The two extremes were 146a146⅞, and the closing rate 146½.

EXCHANGE.

The demand for exchange is very light, and the supply of bills of both cotton and bankers is quite liberal. Prime bankers are quoted generally at 109a109¼, but sales have been made at lower rates from second hand.

REAL ESTATE.

There is considerable movement in real estate at private sales, and the tendency of the market is towards higher prices, especially on personal property.

GOVERNMENT SECURITIES

Were rather more steady towards the close of the day. The following were the closing prices: Registered '81, 114⅜a114½; Coupons '81, 114⅜a114⅝; 5-20s Registered '62, 107⅞a107¾; do Coupons '62, 110⅝a110¾; do '64, 107½a107⅝; do '65, 107½a107¾; 10-40s Registered 100⅞a100⅞; do Coupons, 100½a100⅝; August 7-30s, 105¾ a105⅞; June do, 105⅜a105⅝; July do, 105⅜a106; June Compounds, '64, 116⅞a117; July do, 116⅛a116¾; August do, 115⅝a115⅞; October do, 114⅝a115; December do, 113⅞a114; May do, 112⅝a112⅞; August do, 110⅞a111; September do, 110⅛a110⅜; October do, 109⅞a110.

THE STEAMSHIP SHARES

Were generally firm. For Pacific Mail the bidding price has raised to 243 for round lots, without bringing out any. The stock is increasing in value as the time draws for the opening of the China Line. Atlantic Mail closed at 110a115, and Union Navigation 113½a 114.

THE COAL SHARES

Have been more animated in several instances, and the tendency is toward higher prices. Butler has sold at 18¾a20½, and is increasing in favor under the near prospect of its being placed on the dividend paying list. Cumberland was firmer and sold up to 51¾, but closed at 51¾. Wilkesbarre has been active at 72a75, and closed with no stock offering under 75.

THE STOCK MARKET

At the last open board was dull and generally lower, as compared with second board prices. The following were the closing prices at 4:30 P. M.: New York Central, 1 Sa119⅛; Erie, 81⅝a81⅞; Hudson, 123a124; Reading, 116⅞a116⅝; Michigan Southern, 91⅝a91¾; Illinois Central scrip, 124a124½; Cleveland and Pittsburgh, 93⅛a93¼; Toledo, 118a119⅛; Rock Island, 109⅝a109⅞; Northwestern, 40a49⅛; do preferred, 79a79⅞; Fort Wayne, 109½a109⅞; Ohio and Mississippi, 21¾a21⅞; Pacific Mail, 243a243½; Ohio Certificates, 31a31¼; Pacific Mail, 241a245; Atlantic do, 110a115; Canton, 57a57½; Cumberland, 51⅜a51⅝; Mariposa, 20⅝a20⅞; Quicksilver, 53a54; Western Union Telegraph, 51⅜a51½.

NEW YORK, November 9—Money market easy and steady at 5 per cent. Sterling dull at 109¼a109⅜. Gold without material change, opening at 146⅛, advancing to 146⅝, and closing at 146⅜. Government stocks firm. Freights to Liverpool are quiet. Stocks lower; Fort Wayne, 109½; Milwaukee and St. Paul, 65; Cleveland and Toledo, 119; Erie, 82; New York Central, 118; Michigan Southern, 91½; Northwestern, preferred, 79½; Pacific Mail, 242½; Mariposa, 20¾; Western Union Telegraph, 52; Ohio and Mississippi Certificates, 34½; 6s of '81 coupons, 114⅝; 5-20s coupons, 62, 110¾; do '64, 107¾; 10-40s coupons, 100½; 7-30s, First Series, 107¼; do, Second Series, 105¼; Third Series, 105¼.

The Commercial's money article says: Money appears to be working rather easier than yesterday, owing to a diminishing demand from the brokers. There is, however, a considerable amount of money lent at 6 per cent. though 5 per cent. is perhaps the most general rate. The Bank of Commerce, Bank of New York and the Fourth National Bank, and the Trust Company, have fixed their rate for demand loans at 6 per cent. Discounts are moderately active, 6 per cent. being the minimum rate for prime paper. Foreign exchange is again weaker. The supply of cotton bills is increasing, which, in connection with the large accumulation of bills, keeps down the rates, notwithstanding the considerable remittances are being made. The leading drawers are quoting 60 days at 109a109⅛, though bills can be bought from second hands below these rates. The stock market shows decidedly more activity with another sharp upward turn in prices. Except in New York Central, which was sold freely and declined 7½, the whole railroad list is higher. Governments are more active, but the gold bearing go down with the downward tendency of gold, and are generally ⅛ lower.

The Post's money article says: The temporary activity in money having been checked, the speculative animation in stocks has revived. The loan market is easy at 5a6 per cent. Paper passes at 6a7 per cent. for choice grades. Stock market more animated than last evening. Governments are firm and railroads in general advance. After the regular board, New York Central, 119½; Erie, 83½; Reading, 116½; Pittsburgh, 92¾; Michigan Southern, 91½; Pittsburgh, 92¾; Northwestern, 57½; Northwestern preferred, 79½; Toledo, 119½; Rock Island, 110; Fort Wayne, 110⅛.

River and Oil at Oil City.

(Per Merchants National Telegraph Line.)
Special Dispatch to Pittsburgh Commercial.

OIL CITY, November 9, 1866.—River eighteen inches. Weather cloudy and warm. Market dull. K.

River at Franklin and Oleopolis.

FRANKLIN, PA., November 9.—River at Oleopolis eighteen inches, and falling slowly; Franklin the same.

THE RIVER.—Last evening at twilight the marks indicated four feet three inches and about a stand. The weather was very pleasant.

THE J. L. Graham will load after the Camelia for Nashville.

THE Nora, Captain Devenney, will load in turn for Cincinnati, after the New State. She will commence receiving this day.

THE Parkersburg packet for this day is the fleet steamer Grey Eagle. She leaves at noon. Passengers that way will be well cared for on this boat.

THE fine steamer Silver Cloud No. 2 Captain Martin, leaves for Cairo and St. Louis on Saturday, positively. This boat has superior accommodations and is in charge of careful and attentive officers. Our old friend Captain C. Matthews will be found in the office.

THE splendid side-wheel passenger packet Quickstep leaves to-day at 12 M. She will be for the present commanded by Captain John Scouse, an officer of large experience and pleasing address. This boat has a fine reputation among passengers and shippers. We take pleasure in recommending boat and officers.

THE splendid passenger packet "Kate Putnam" Captain Lightner, is announced for Cairo and St. Louis this day. This boat is one of the best of her class afloat. Captain Lightner is a great favorite with the passengers and shippers—while Mr. Young will see that passengers have the best of attention.

HO FOR THE SUNNY SOUTH.—The first class passenger packet Armenia, Capt. McCallam, is announced for Memphis and New Orleans this day. For speed, accommodations and attentive officers, this boat has no superior. We take pleasure in recommending boat and officers. Our friend Mc., Jr., will see that passengers have the best of attention.

HO! FOR NEW ORLEANS!—The new steamer Flicker, Capt. Wm. Taylor, departs positively on Saturday. Parties desiring to ship freight through, should call early, as the boat is about loaded. Capt. Taylor intends to go out drawing thirty inches only, and a small amount of freight can be received on that draught. Freights for Memphis, Vicksburg and New Orleans go through without reshipping by this boat.

Cincinnati.

November 8.—We condense the following from the Enquirer:

The weather yesterday was clear and rather warmer than for several days past. The mercury stood at sixty-two degrees at two o'clock P. M. in the shade.

The river at this point was stationary last evening, with twenty-four feet full in the channel.

Business on the landing yesterday was rather more active than for several days past. The boats that took their departure had good trips.

The Belle Vernon, from Pittsburgh, will be found at the wharf this morning, and is announced for St. Louis this evening.

The Darling will be found at the landing this morning, from Memphis, with a good trip of freight including 1,155 bales of cotton for this port.

The Petrolia, from Memphis, came up yesterday with a good trip.

The Die Vernon, we understand, will be dismantled by her owners, and sent to the bone yard at Memphis.

The Mineola, from Memphis, in command of Captain Lew. Kates, will be at the wharf today with a good trip of freight. One item of her cargo is 1,122 bales of cotton.

The Commercial same date says:

The Argosy, from Pittsburgh, reships 1,600 plows, and a lot of plantation wagons for New Orleans on the John H. Groesbeck, and 400 plows for Memphis on the Maggie Hays.

JEFFERSONVILLE, IND., November 7.—There is six feet six inches in the pass over the falls and on a stand. Weather clear and pleasant. Steamers Darling and Glasgow passed up. The Kate Robinson passed down. The towboats Reindeer, Sampson, Horner, Resolute, Mary Lavidge, Star, Dart, Greyhound, left Pittsburgh with heavy tows. Several will pass below as quick as they can pass through the canal.

EVANSVILLE, IND., November 7.—Weather delightfully clear and warm. The river has risen two feet during the last twenty-four hours, and is rising fast. Port list: Minerva, Memphis to Cincinnati; Ezra Porter, New Orleans to Cincinnati. Both boats have large cargoes. The Tarascon has resumed her place in the Louisville and Henderson Line, and came down with a vast crowd of people, including Captain Ballard and his new wife and bridal party. The regular packets are having paying trips.
